Conservatives Win Election In Grey North

riding all federal party leaders directly concerned except Prime Minister Mackenzie King, who at one time threatened to call off the by-election and now must soon make known when a general election will be held.

As soon as the Grey North decision became known, attention shifted to Ottawa for some indication of immediate plans for the Liberal government whose defence minister is without a seat in the House of Commons. The by-election was called when the sitting member, Mr. Telford, resigned to open a seat for the new minister.

BEFORE APRIL 17th

Mr. King has already said the call for a general election will come before April 17, when the life of the present parliament expires.

In Ottawa last night high opposition officials regarded the by-election result as making a general election probable in April or early May.

Prime Minister Mackenzie King in a statement said the result "raises immediately the question as to whether or not any useful purpose can be served by having another session of parliament before a general election." He added he has "all along sought to avoid a general election while our men are fighting at the front," and saw the possibility that the parties opposing the government in the by-election may have "created and fostered the very circumstances which make a general election inevitable."

Those looking for an April or May election discounted the possibility of war developments causing the government to postpone the election and go ahead with a session without the defence minister in the house.

LEADERS IN RIDING

The Grey North campaign brought John Bracken, Progressive Conservative leader, and M. J. Coldwell, CCF leader, into the riding. Mr. Bracken arrived late last week after a flight from overseas, where he visited men in the Canadian services. Others, including Liberal cabinet members, took part in the campaign. A score of newspapermen moved into Owen Sound.

Mr. Case, a 45-year-old insurance agent, polled 44 per cent of the votes in yesterday's balloting. Gen. McNaughton polled 37 per cent, and Mr. Godfrey 19 per cent.

The government's partial conscription policy and the related question of reinforcements for the overseas army figured largely in the all-out contest. Liberals, who had hoped for an acclamation for Gen. McNaughton, argued it was essential he have a seat in the house. Progressive Conservatives countered that the war effort and reinforcement flow would have to go on regardless of whether he was elected. The CCF called for the mobilization of manpower and industry as well as manpower.

Mr. Case was the only one of the three candidates with any experience in the political field. He sought election to the federal house in the general elections of 1940 when he ran as a National Liberal Progressive candidate. William Telford, a Liberal, whose resignation because of ill-health opened the constituency for a by-election, polled 7,538 votes, V. C. Porteous, National Government (Conservative), 5,771 and Mr. Case, 2,434.

EQUALLY SUCCESSFUL

Liberals and Conservatives have been just about equally successful in the riding since confederation. The constituents, made up mostly of British stock families who settled on the shores of Georgian Bay, have sent 11 Liberals and 10 Conservatives members to the Commons since confederation.

During the campaign, Gen. McNaughton said he sought election to a seat in the Commons so that he might the better perform his duties as minister of national defence. His opponents said their election would be a protest against the government manpower policy.

The campaign reached its climax in the closing days when John Bracken, Progressive Conservative leader, entered the riding to support Mr. Case. Mr. Bracken, just back from a tour of the battlefronts, said that the Canadian army still was short of reinforcements.

AHEAD OF SCHEDULE

Gen. McNaughton said the reinforcement program was slightly ahead of schedule and would be kept that way. He said no man could get a clear view by "dashing" into the vast theatres of war and coming right back.

Mr. Bracken asked Gen. McNaughton to reveal how home defence troops proceeding overseas had thrown their rifles and ammunition overboard.

Gen. McNaughton asked that Mr. Bracken substantiate his statement "for pay the penalty for it." National defence headquarters reported that one man had thrown his rifle and kit overboard at a port of embarkation and had balked about leaving the ship when it arrived overseas.

Mr. Bracken and Mr. Case also called on Gen. McNaughton to reveal why he had retired from command of the Canadian Army overseas. Gen. McNaughton said he is happy that he had not retired of his own free will or desire. Every document dealing with his retirement had been placed in the hands of historians. He had no objection to their publication now, but it was not up to him to make them public.

worked from dawn to dusk for 15 months in this job, living frugally all the while and early in 1904, he filed on a homestead at North Battleford, Sask.

He farmed successfully for a time and proved up his homestead but three successive crop failures suggested to him that he was in the wrong province so he continued west to Alberta.

He located a farm at Excel, where he grew grain and raised purebred horses. Two months after his arrival in Alberta, he joined the United Farmers of Alberta.

WINS FEDERAL SEAT

When the United Farmers of Alberta swept into politics in 1921 to form the first farmer government in Alberta, Mr. Gardiner was busily engaged in contesting a by-election which was being held in the federal riding of Medicine Hat.

The seat had been left vacant by the death of Hon. A. L. Sifton, then secretary of state. His opponent was Col. Nelson Spencer, Conservative, and Mr. Gardiner scored an overwhelming victory when the contest was decided in June.

In 1925, Mr. Gardiner was re-elected and when the riding was enlarged and called the Acadia constituency, Mr. Gardiner was again nominated as a farmer's representative in the general election of 1930 and he was one of the two members in the whole of Canada to be returned by acclamation that year. He headed the federal UFA "ginger group" at Ottawa until his defeat in 1935.

BEAUHARNOIS PROBE

He first became nationally known in 1929. His drive for federal investigation of circumstances surrounding the Beauharnois Power Corporation in 1929 and 1930 placed him among the leaders in parliamentary life.

His arguments and proposals brought into being the special committee of parliament created to probe the Beauharnois project's integrity, financing and development.

In 1931, Mr. Gardiner was elected president of the UFA for the first time and held the office continuously until his retirement in December of last year.

He was a member of the agricultural sub-committee of the committee on post-war reconstruction set up by the provincial government.

Mr. Gardiner leaves no immediate relatives. He is survived by an aunt, Mrs. R. J. E. Gardiner, of Macleod, and three cousins, Mrs. J. R. Walker, of Edmonton, and R. R. Gardiner and J. M. Gardiner of Calgary.

Cancel Meeting

MONTREAL, Feb. 6.—(CP)—The Canadian Chamber of Commerce announced Monday that due to wartime travel conditions it had cancelled the annual general meeting which had been called for Quebec City March 5-7.

their party supported the idea that wealth and industry should be mobilized as well as manpower in time of war.

Air Vice Marshal Godfrey, executive assistant to the president of an industrial firm at Gananoque, said he decided to join the CCF after seeing conditions in relief camps during the depression years. He was administrator of one of the camps near Rockcliffe, Ont.

Mr. Case, manager of a life insurance company, said that Air Vice Marshal Godfrey should have resigned and brought conditions in the camps to public notice. He said that Gen. McNaughton was administrator for the camps throughout Canada and that he too had done nothing about the conditions that existed.

Many Factors Aided Comeback Of Tory Party

the multiplicity of the hierarchy in Quebec City. The ridiculous allegation that the King government was considering Canadian independence from Britain was published in the French language newspaper last Saturday morning. But it was picked up by the Toronto Globe and Mail in a hurry and rushed into the Grey North constituency, arriving there about 10 a.m. on voting day.

Before that, however, it had been spread by radio in the constituency, and the Progressive Conservative workers quite legitimately used it for all it was worth in the final voting hours among a population including many adherents to the Loyal Orange Order.

Another factor was the appearance in the constituency of Pastor Shields from Toronto who preached the doctrine that a vote for General McNaughton was a vote for the Pope.

A great deal of money was spent in the by-election but it is only fair to say by all sides in legitimate advertising. Radio broadcasting, hiring halls, transportation, etc. No concrete accusations, so far at least, have been made of any improper expenditures.

POWERFUL FORCES

Nevertheless, most of the score of newspapermen who were on the scene are well aware that powerful forces, usually termed reactionary in Eastern Canada, threw their entire weight behind Mr. Case. There was an element, of course, of local resentment against outsiders running against a home-town man, and there also can be no doubt that a great deal of sympathy on the part of many Liberal voters for former minister of defence, Hon. J. L. Ralston, had considerable effect. The conscription issue was not a dead horse, in Grey North, as some had supposed.

Nevertheless, when all these factors are weighed, and assayed, the net result is that they were minor in the fight between the forces of forward-looking Liberalism and the reactionary powers which have been biding their time to cut the heart out of the King government.

The Liberal party workers, sober-minded people too, who cast CCF votes, are beginning to be alarmed at the result of their stubborn determination to run a third candidate. Had it not been for the insistence of the local CCF organization, it is possible that some agreement might have been reached with the CCF leaders to remain out of the Grey North fight. They knew well enough that they were risking a victory to the Conservatives.

GAVE TORIES VICTORY

Without any doubt at all, when progressive elements throughout Canada realize that all they have accomplished by their schisms is to prepare the road for Tory victory, the tendency will be to drive the more sober-minded among these progressive elements of the Liberal party. If the CCF is not frightened by this defeat, it blooming well should be.

On the other hand the disruptive elements in Quebec who have chosen to depart from the path of progressive Liberalism to divide on questions of narrow sectionalism may also well stop, look and listen. They have invited the return to power of the party which won the Grey North by preaching high and low the very conscription policy which the dissentient elements in Quebec have been condemning to high heaven. Preaching it, too, through the medium of a candidate on written record that he personally is opposed to the policy of his party which he advocated from the public platform.

These elements of such divided aims have thus invited the return to power of a party which certainly looks with no favorable eye on the far-reaching program of social and economic reforms adopted during the sessions of the expiring parliament.

John Bracken, leader of the victorious so-called Progressive Conservatives, said that Mr. Case's victory had given a lead to Canada; quite true, if Mr. Bracken meant, as he must have, a lead to the long disappointed right wingers of the Tory party, who are giving whoops of joy over the prospect of a return of the good old days, when social reform was regarded as something not quite respectable.

Canada Proves Difficult to Unite, Govern

a union of the men of good-will who are willing to try to understand each other's problems.

WOULD UNDERSTAND

"Men of good-will who are to be found on one side or the other are always prepared to understand the other's viewpoint," he said. "I look forward to the coming of the day when all of these will be able to get together to present a united front against the saboteurs of concord and harmony."

To understand what is going on in Canada one must recall the background of the French-speaking Canadians. Mr. Harvey said. He pointed out that they could not be blamed for considering themselves the only "100 per cent Canadians" when they were here 150 years before the arrival of other European races and had established a new nation.

"The simple fact of a conquest or of a treaty is not sufficient," he said, "and, in fact, never has been sufficient, to ignore such a reality as a century and a half of national organization."

He said the French-speaking Canadians had severed their ties with the Old World while Canadians of other origins such as English, Scottish, Irish, German and Scandinavian for the most part have strong affections for their motherland.

HAVE REPERCUSSIONS

"The result of this is that the troubles which shake the Old World have their repercussions in a much speedier and a much more violent form among Canadians of recent vintage, than among those who have been cut off from Europe for centuries," he said.

The differences of language, religion, and education also play their part in creating misunderstanding between the two groups in Canada. One language, he said, is a wonderful means of unification but it is impossible in Canada because of the historic background, and the present system of bilingualism is the only remedy for the situation.

"Religion likewise plays a great part in Quebec life," he said, "and this especially complicates the question. More than 97 per cent of French-speaking Canadians are Catholics, whereas their English-speaking fellow citizens are about 80 per cent Protestant. This explains why some of us are told that there is a Catholic language and a Protestant language. It is well-known that certain facts reveal this to be a mistake, but it will be understood that the religious hierarchy has very good reasons for fearing that too wide a diffusion of the language of our neighbors among our people may influence the ideas and beliefs."

McNaughton will seek Sask. seat

WHITEWOOD, Sask., Feb. 6.—(CP)—Defence Minister McNaughton had advised the Qu'Appelle Federal Constituency Liberal Association that he is prepared to seek election as a Liberal candidate in this constituency which includes the town where he was born, Moosomin.

S. H. Miskiman, of Whitehead, president of the constituency association, said that a telegram had been received from Gen. McNaughton "two or three days ago" saying he was prepared to seek the Liberal nomination and be the Qu'Appelle general election candidate.

Mr. Miskiman said that Gen. McNaughton previously had indicated verbally that he would like to seek election in the Qu'Appelle constituency and Liberals of the district recently had suggested again that he would be welcome as a nominee.

Mr. Miskiman said that no date for a nominating convention had been decided.

race, against the very existence of our ethnic group.

"It is not the masses who are to blame; it is the politicians who have led them astray," he claimed.

The speaker said that at the outbreak of war the ablest speakers in the country should have been utilized to convince the people that Canadians were fighting for Canada, because Canada was directly in peril.

"Our governments, with the means of persuasion at their disposal, have failed in their task, which was to implant this element of truth in the minds of all, namely, that Canada could not lose this war without being ruined materially as well as morally, culturally and nationally."

He said that if all these elements of dissension and of the kind of education from which the province suffers are taken into account it is surprising that Quebec has made the contribution to the war effort that it had.

"No other province would have made a better showing than she has in the circumstances," he said.

He denounced extremists as a plague, wherever they are found and blamed them for much of the misunderstanding, even though they are in the minority. He said the activities of these groups were reported in detail and said "the term 'riot' will be used for a paltry parade of students who may have yelled some abuse or broken some panes of glass. No mention will be made of the tremendous majority who stay quietly at home, or are out enjoying themselves at the various shows and movie-houses."

"It is difficult to cultivate a Canadian sentiment for a people which has no flag, no national anthem accepted by all, and even no school truly Canadian," he said. "The absence of these symbols and these national realities indicate the persistence of a colonialism which cannot last much longer, without doing great harm to the development of a Canadian spirit in North America. Let us admit it and attempt to remedy it."

D. E. Cameron, president of the Men's Canadian Club, was in the chair and introduced the speaker. Special guests seated at the head table together with the president were Mr. Harvey included Hon. Mr. Gov. J. C. Bowen and Chief Justice Horace Harvey.

Sask. Refuses Pay Seed Debt On Hsley Plan

OTTAWA, Feb. 6.—(CP)—Finance Minister Hsley announced today the Saskatchewan government had failed to make payment on the demand treasury bill for $16,468,852 delivered recently to the Dominion government in settlement of the 1935 seed grain loan debt.

The minister said he had advised C. M. Pines, Saskatchewan provincial treasurer, of a schedule of installment payments which will be acceptable to the government.

In lengthy correspondence during the last two months Mr. Hsley said he had asked the Saskatchewan government to deliver treasury bills payable in a series over the next five years.

Instead, said Mr. Hsley, Saskatchewan provided the single bill for the whole amount payable on demand.

"We will be satisfied with payments extending over the next five years," he continued. "I did not expect a treasury bill payable on demand, but since the Saskatchewan government has seen fit to deliver a bill in these terms I had no choice but to proceed in accordance with the terms."

REGINA, Feb. 6.—(CP)—A formal demand on the Saskatchewan government for payment of the $16,468,852 seed grain debt delivered today by a federal finance department representative, acting on instructions of Federal Finance Minister Hsley, it was learned.

T. F. Phillips of the finance department office in Regina, presented a letter to the government, and provincial cabinet ministers went into session shortly afterwards.

Provincial Treasurer Fines said that a demand had been made for immediate payment of $16,468,852 in Saskatchewan treasury bills sent to the federal minister last week.

NAZIS IN FLIGHT

Thousands of Nazi troops were reported in full flight across the Rhine from Alsace under heavy artillery fire, leaving 1,500 to 2,000 of their number hopelessly trapped behind the Allied lines in the Vosges mountains.

A front dispatch from British United Press correspondent Ronald Clark said the river level had risen considerably along the northern front in Holland and the United Kingdom and Canadian sectors were quiet apart from active patrolling.

RAF Mosquitoes, flying in the worst possible weather, last night bombed Bredford junction, 30 miles east of Bonn, and cut the Amersfoort-Appeldoorn railway.

Field dispatches said the American First and Third Armies were grinding steadily forward through the eastern fringes of the Siegfried line, bursting through that barrier at some points in a methodical advance that was beginning to threaten the entire German position west of the Rhine.

German resistance was stiffening, however, particularly on the Third Army front where Lt. Gen. George Patton's infantry divisions ran into increasingly heavy counter-attacks.

Patton's troops hammered out gains of a mile and more on an eight-mile front before Prum, capturing Habscheid, seven miles west-southwest of that communications centre, and Schlausenbach, six miles to the northwest.

FIGHT IN BRANDSCHEID

Three miles below Schlausenbach, the Americans pushed to within 3 1/2 miles of Prum after a two-mile advance from Buckel, while still farther south they captured Brandscheid, only to run into a sharp counter attack that carried the Germans back into the town. At last reports, heavy fighting was continuing inside Brandscheid, five miles due west of Prum.

The Siegfried penetration apparently was made in the Brandscheid area and east of Buchet, where the enemy's fixed defenses were believed to be thinnest because of the rugged terrain. Newly-constructed pillboxes and tank traps were expected to hamper the American advance behind the West Wall, however.

On the First Army front, units of one division were fanning out along the west bank of the Roer river immediately north of captured Rurberg. On their right flank, other formations seized the Urtes-Pierre dam intact and was closing in rapidly on the huge Schwammendamm dam, the main dam controlling the level of the Roer to the north.

American control of the Roer dams would facilitate an offensive across the lower reaches of the river on the U.S. Ninth and British Second army fronts above Aachen, which German sources said was imminent.

KANDY, Ceylon, Feb. 6.—(BUP)—Troops of the 15th Army have cleared Satpangon, on the north bank of the Irrawaddy west of Myittha, after breaking up stubborn resistance by Japanese forces, a Southeast Asia communiqué said today. To the east of Myittha, approximately 25 miles west of Mandalay, the Japanese were attempting to enlarge a bridgehead at Nyaung-U at the confluence of the Ma and Irrawaddy rivers.

Mr. Maynard will be accompanied on the trip east by H. J. Wilson, K.C., deputy attorney-general. They will attend a meeting of the Canadian Bar Association council while at Ottawa. Mr. Wilson is chairman of the criminal law section of the Bar Association.

Representations will be made by the City of Calgary and the City of Edmonton to the Dominion government of the necessity of making the National Housing Act applicable to Alberta.

CALGARY TO PRESS

It was announced Tuesday by Mayor John W. Fry that the City of Calgary was sending Mayor Andrew Davidson, M.L.A., to Ottawa to press for the declaration by government that the housing act provisions will be applied to this province, and that loans will be forthcoming as in other provinces in Canada.

Mayor Fry stated that the City of Edmonton is joining with Calgary urging this, but he will urge also that immediate attention be given to the provision of temporary housing accommodation to meet the desperate shortage existing in Edmonton.

Accompanied by Ald. Sidney Parsons, Mayor Fry will leave Friday night for Ottawa to present Edmonton's case to officials there.

A total of 7,985 votes were cast by Albertans in all three branches of the service. Sailors cast 632 ballots, members of the RCAF cast 1,207, while soldiers marked 6,125 votes.

Returning officers for the election were James Thomson, who was in complete charge of arrangements overseas and was stationed in London; David Duncan, the Italian front; L. P. Davis, France and Belgium, and A. P. Van Buren, Calgary, for men serving in the Western Hemisphere.

In all 32 candidates were nominated for the election. Three were navy men; seven were with the RCAF, while 22 were serving with the armed forces. Nominations were accepted when submitted by group of 25 or more qualified voters.

ENTITLED TO VOTE

Any Alberta serviceman or woman who had not voted in the August provincial general election was entitled to cast a ballot. In the Western Hemisphere, polls were opened from Edmonton to as far south as a United States Army paratrooper school in Georgia, where a group of Albertans are in training.

Addition of the three service members to the Legislature will bring the number of members to 60, the highest it has been since redistribution of constituencies a few years ago.

The servicemen-MLAs will sit as a separate group in the House and will not be connected with any political party. To be known as members-at-large, they will receive the regular indemnity of $2,000 a session.

Capt. Prowse, who was a reporter on The Edmonton Bulletin editorial staff before enlisting for active service, went overseas early in 1941 as a reinforcement officer to The Loyal Edmonton Regiment.

He served with that unit in the bitter fighting around Ortona, Italy, and was wounded in the head in that battle. After his recovery he was posted as an instructor in Italy.

BACK IN ACTION

Returning to his regiment he was wounded again in the Italian fighting. He has taken special commando and other courses, and has been rated as one of the best-trained and efficient officers in his regiment.

He was graduated from the University of Alberta. While at the University he had been interested in military matters and was a member of the GOCF there. When war broke out he immediately enrolled in an officers' training class and when he qualified as a lieutenant he obtained leave of absence from his position with The Bulletin to "go active".

While at the university he was prominent in affairs of the Students' Union and was a star with the famous Golden Bears, the university rugby squad.

He is the son of J. H. Prowse, KC, and Mrs. Prowse of Taber, H. C. His wife, the former Miss Irene Reynolds, and their daughter live here.

Capt. Prowse has three brothers in the armed services. WO Clifford Prowse, RCAF, was shot down over Germany and lost a leg, after being confined to a prison camp for a lengthy period, he has been reported as being at Marcellus ready to sail for home on the exchange liner Gripsholm.

FO. Hubert Prowse, RCAF, was shot down over Switzerland and he made his escape from an internment camp.

Capt. William Prowse, RCAMC, at present is stationed at Toronto.

Sqdn-Ldr. Colborne is in charge of an anti-submarine squadron of the Eastern Air Command and has headquarters on Canada's east coast.

RADIO OPERATOR

He was a radio operator before the war.

Well known in Calgary, he has a distinguished flying record to his credit since joining the RCAF. He won his DFC for a successful attack on a Nazi submarine off the Atlantic coast in the spring of 1943.

Sqdn-Ldr. Colborne was promoted to his present post in summer of last year.

Chief Petty Officer Ward enlisted in the navy through HMS Tecumseh of Calgary. He was a checker in civilian life, and joined the service soon after the outbreak of war.

Fall of Manila Is Proclaimed By MacArthur assault on Fort Corregidor in Manila Bay.

"Writing off the eventual loss of Manila, Japanese propagandists said that the coming of the Americans to Manila was 'exactly what our side waited for, and our bleeding tactics will now enter the positive stage.'"

The 11th Airborne Division completed the stranglehold on the battered Japanese garrison in Manila by smashing into the city from the south yesterday after an overnight dash of 35 miles.

LINK UP IN CITY

The 37th Infantry Division, pouring into the capital from the north, and the First Cavalry Division, from the east, linked up in the heart of Manila and cleaned all of the city north of the Pasig river with the exception of scattered groups of snipers.

Japanese demolition squads continued their destructive work in southern Manila, working feverishly against their own imminent destruction. Numerous fires cast a heavy pall of smoke over the city and explosions shook the ground at frequent intervals.

The 37th Infantry Division captured Bilid prison in the northern half of Manila yesterday, releasing more than 800 war prisoners and about 350 additional civilian internees, including women and children.

5,500 RESCUED

That brought to more than 5,500 the number of Allied prisoners rescued in the past week, including those at the Santo Tomas university concentration camp in Manila and the Cabanatuan prison camp in central Luzon.

Most were Americans, but the number also included a scattering of British, Canadians, Australians, Dutch and other Allied nationals. MacArthur said the names of those rescued at Santo Tomas and Bilid would be released as soon as they have been tabulated, probably a matter of several days.

By-Election Press Comment

Winnipeg Free Press (Liberal)—The defeat of General MacNaughton in North Grey yesterday makes an immediate general election in Canada desirable and inevitable. As Mr. King says, the presence of the minister of national defence in parliament is essential to the conduct of war business, and there can be no value in another session of the present parliament under present conditions.

There is an even larger reason for an immediate election: The Progressive Conservative Party, by its campaign in North Grey, has raised a war issue throughout the country which must be met and settled. It has undermined the unity of the nation and encouraged by its success in the by-election in the north to redouble its efforts in a desperate search for office.

In such a situation it will be impossible to hold the full energies of Canada behind its war effort. Only a general election giving a mandate to a government and answering the questions raised in North Grey, can restore parliament's power, and these bitter disputes among Canadians and set the nation firmly on the road to victory and to peace. The sooner we shall have a nation united in purpose and in strength.

For creating the necessity of a general election during the climax of the war the Progressive Conservative party must take full and sole responsibility. It has not hesitated to misrepresent the war effort of the nation before the world, to distort the known facts, to spread the most grievous rumors regardless of the official record, to hold Canada to shame before its neighbors.

It has won Grey North but at a heavy cost to itself and to the nation. The decisive factor in its victory, no doubt, was the return of Mr. Bracken to the cabinet to appear at the last moment and misstate the Canadian Army's misstatements and smear uttered too late, by careful plan, to be adequately denied. This is the leader who was so brave in abuse and yet never had the courage to enter parliament where his statements could be checked and answered. He is to be congratulated on a physical victory.

By The Canadian Press

Toronto Globe and Mail (Independent)—"Grey North rebuked Defence Minister MacNaughton. From that rebuke rises a full-voiced condemnation of the reinforcement policy and its craftsmen, Prime Minister King, who throughout the long tragedy of war has subjected this nation to humiliation and worse in the service of his partisan interests.

Real worth is the tremendous lift which rejection of the King-MacNaughton plan will carry to our fighting men now preparing for their crucial battle.

Ottawa Citizen (Independent)—"Failure of Mr. Case to win would have been interpreted as a conclusive defeat of the Progressive Conservative party. Yesterday's by-election result will doubtless have a rallying effect on the party's previously declining prospects in the general election. It is a distinct Progressive Conservative gain."

Montreal Le Canada (Liberal)—"Mr. MacNaughton's success was astonishingly modest. He had in his favor, the enormous weight of prejudices and secular passions. General MacNaughton conducted a clean battle. As did Air Vice Marshal Godfrey. The votes that both men drew represent the sanest elements of Ontario, those which are destined to cement national unity in collaboration with all Canadians.

Saint John Telegraph-Journal (Independent)—"In rejecting the bid of the minister of national defence for a seat in the House of Commons, the voters of Grey North expressed their disapproval of the way the conscription question has been handled by the Mackenzie King government. Other factors undoubtedly influence the outcome of the by-election in a minor way, but the issue which overshadowed all the rest was that of military manpower.

The Regina Leader-Post (Independent)—"The defeat of Gen. MacNaughton in Grey North, besides being an emphatic setback for the government, brings the Prime Minister face to face with the decision on whether or not to call an immediate general election. On the basis of his several pronouncements during the campaign it would seem that he feels impelled to do so."

Saskatoon Star-Phoenix (Independent)—"The result of the by-election in Grey North will surprise very few. The result may be interpreted to mean that a general election, so that any doubts about parliament's mandate may be resolved, is imperative. But the figures in this election can scarcely be viewed as a reliable guide to Ontario's voting as a whole."

Halifax Chronicle (Liberal)—"The general election itself in its final outcome will be influenced in no small measure by the capacity of the government to put its own house in order and to place in the post of minister of national defence a man who enjoys the unqualified confidence of the entire country. The by-election has, in effect, decided exactly nothing. What it has done is still further to obscure the political horizon in such a manner that nothing short of a general election can be expected to clear it effectively."

Victoria Colonist (Conservative)—"The defeat of the government's candidate was so decisive that there can be no alibi. General MacNaughton on test was not acceptable to the voters of Grey North as minister of national defence. Mr. MacNaughton's recruiting policy, the main issue of the by-election, of a little conscription and a little more pleading with men to volunteer—when for five years they have not and of which he has no understanding at all. The blame for this sorry situation must rest as much upon the government as upon General MacNaughton himself.

Moncton (N.B.) Daily Times (Progressive Conservative)—"The result in Grey North is a clear indictment of the Mackenzie King government's half-measure reinforcement policy. General MacNaughton sought from the people there not only an endorsement for himself to parliament but for the ministerial policy which he announced after assuming the national defence portfolio. Grey North was, in effect, a proving ground for that policy and it has failed in the test."

Charlottetown Guardian (Conservative)—"A far less astute man than Prime Minister Mackenzie King should be able to read the handwriting on the wall as chalked up in yesterday's by-election in Grey North. 'The defeat of Defence Minister MacNaughton by the Progressive Conservative candidate, Mr. Case, means the end of the road for the King government. . . . The verdict will be a sign, not only to the government but to the men overseas, of how their fellow citizens at home regard Mr. King's administration."

Lethbridge Herald (Liberal)—"Canadians may prepare themselves for an early general election. That is the inference which may logically be drawn from the Progressive Conservative victory in Grey North. The repudiation of Gen. MacNaughton will be interpreted as repudiation of the government. The surprise of the campaign was the poor showing of the CCF candidate. The stock of John Bracken has gone up as a result of the victory. Mr. Bracken made conscription definitely the issue in the last week of the campaign."

Calgary Albertan (Independent)—"The result can only be taken as repudiation of the Prime Minister's conscription policy. 'General MacNaughton carried on his campaign practically alone and was also handicapped by being forced to divide his time between Ottawa and the election front. On the other hand a galaxy of party stalwarts rallied to help the Progressive Conservative, and John Bracken, free from the war front, may have influenced the voters in his last-minute appearance."

Calgary Herald (Independent)—"Viewed from any standpoint the decisive defeat of Gen. MacNaughton is a major reverse for the Mackenzie King government and also a stunning rebuke to the CCF for opposing a candidate and a policy which it had supported in parliament a few months ago."

The Progressive Conservatives have every reason to exult over the election of their candidate and to read the result as what is likely to happen many times in the next federal election in Ontario. They entered the fight on a straight-forward basis, opposing the government policy of piece-meal conscription on the hustings as their representatives had done in the Commons. They concentrated their fire on this policy and insisted that the main issue under assessment was that of reinforcements for the infantry troops overseas."

Victoria Colonist (Conservative)—"The defeat of the government's candidate was so decisive that there can be no alibi. General MacNaughton on test was not acceptable to the voters of Grey North as minister of national defence. Mr. MacNaughton's recruiting policy, the main issue of the by-election, of a little conscription and a little more pleading with men to volunteer—when for five years they have not leader, also was at home, and John Bracken, national Progressive Conservative leader, was surrounded by a triumphant group of party workers at Bracken House, the party's official headquarters.

Since Mr. King, in by-election statements, said that presence of Gen. MacNaughton in the Commons was essential to the holding of a session of parliament, it was expected that without the defence minister no session would be held.

Consequently, a general election in April or May seems as a possibility unless other developments in connection with the war in Europe should lead the government to postpone the election until later and perhaps attempt to have a session without the defence minister in the House.

EXPIRES APRIL 17

The life of parliament expires April 17 and Mr. King has said a general election would be called before that date.

Political circles in the capital followed the progress of the by-election with intense interest. There was little surprise at the outcome as there were few who were confident enough to predict the result with certainty.

There was more surprise among observers at the comparative smallness of the CCF candidate's vote than at the main result of the election as reports from the campaign indicated Air Vice-Marshal Godfrey had almost as good a chance of winning as either of the other candidates.

If Mr. King dissolves parliament at once the general election could be on April 9 which is the first Monday after the lapse of the 60 days necessary to set up election machinery and compile the service vote. The election machinery calls for voting on Monday with nominations a few weeks before.

With the election of Mr. Case, party standing in the Commons is: Lib. 156; Prog. Con. 40; CCF 10; Social Credit 10; others 18; vacant 11; total 245.

ULTIMATE TRIUMPH SEEN BY MCNAUGHTON

OWEN SOUND, Ont., Feb. 6.—(CP)—Defence Minister MacNaughton, in a broadcast last night shortly after his defeat in the Grey North by-election, said that the "forces of Tory reaction have won the first skirmish in the great battle which must now be joined."

The statement broadcast over the Owen Sound radio station read: "Tonight I speak to you briefly from Grey North where for the moment the forces of Tory reaction have won the first skirmish in the great battle which must now be joined."

TO DECIDE FUTURE—"That battle is to decide the future of Canada for a long time to come. It is to decide whether our young men and women will have a proper opportunity to grow up in freedom of conscience, of faith and of expression—to live their lives in happiness and abundance or whether they are to come under the bondage of a completely unscrupulous dictatorship which masquerades under the false front of a progressive label."

"We have fought this election campaign. We have been fair and right in everything we have done. 'We do not yet know the full results for yesterday's results but you may be sure that they will be most completely looked into and guarded against in future. 'We have had a lesson. We are done so—is not endorsed. The administration has been given a double rebuff."

Vancouver News-Herald (Independent)—"General MacNaughton . . . has placed himself and his policies before the voters of Grey North and has gone down to defeat . . . The result will hearten the opposition parties and create considerable alarm in government circles. No subsidiary considerations can outweigh the fact that the voters of one of Canada's 245 constituencies have spoken their minds now in power."

Labor Government Seen in Britain—MONTREAL, Feb. 6.—(CP)—Crech Jones, Labor member of the British House of Commons for a Yorkshire constituency and secretary to Labor Minister Ernest Bevin, said in an interview yesterday that the Labor party would be called on to form the next government in Great Britain "or within a reasonable time because of the definite swing towards the left by service personnel and civilians alike." He is here to begin a speaking tour in Montreal and Ottawa.

The Francis, devout Moslems, eat no pork, drink no liquor, pray five times a day and rest on Friday awake and more determined than ever that in the final count we will win through.

"I thank all the workers in the cause most sincerely for the great support they have given me."

URGES GOOD COURAGE

"I regret that duties at the Department of National Defence have kept me away from them for many days. I ask that all our friends be of good courage for the future. I ask that they carry on."

"For myself I have given my loyalty and devotion to the Prime Minister. I have dedicated myself to the great cause for which the Liberal party stands. I will fight to the end and in the end our cause will triumph."

DECLARES DECISIONS BASED ON NEEDS

OTTAWA, Feb. 6.—(CP)—John Bracken, Progressive Conservative national leader, said last night in a statement that the result of yesterday's Grey North by-election indicated that "decisions on military matters must be determined by military needs, not by political expediency."

Commenting on the election of Garfield Case, Progressive Conservative candidate, Mr. Bracken's statement follows: "The voters of Grey North have spoken. Once before they gave a lead to the nation on the plebiscite. Now they have given a second one on the manpower issue. Their decision will be a great comfort to the men who are so valiantly serving us overseas."

THREE THINGS INDICATED—"The results indicate three things: First, that when a government takes its people into war it must call upon its manpower fairly, not unfairly; second, that when the nation's sons are called upon to defend us in the line of battle, the provision for standing behind them with reinforcements must be adequate, not stinted; third, that in a matter where the lives of our youth are at stake, there must be an approach to equality of service on military matters must be determined by military needs, not by political expediency."

I need not say that I am deeply appreciative of the work of our organization in Grey North and also for the expression of confidence in our policy and in our candidate, Mr. Case, so positively indicated by the voters of that constituency."

OTTAWA, Feb. 6.—(CP)—M. J. Goldwell, CCF national leader, acknowledging the defeat of Air Vice-Marshal Earl Godfrey in yesterday's Grey North by-election, said in a statement last night that Grey North "was in many respects new ground for our movement but in such contests the message and the program of the CCF has been brought to thousands of Canadians."

Text of Mr. Goldwell's statement follows: "Air Vice-Marshal Earl Godfrey fought a magnificent fight. It was clean and raised the issues the country must face soon. The CCF did not participate in the mud-slinging that featured the closing days of the campaign."

TOTAL CONSCRIPTION—"The CCF stands four square for reinforcements for our fighting men but demands, too, that industry and wealth shall serve the nation in the same manner and on the same terms as our men and women serve in war."

We did not win, but our candidate and his workers deserve the thanks of our entire movement for their self-sacrificing effort in the people's cause."

The educational work which they have done in the past few weeks will bear fruit in the days to come. Grey North was in many respects new ground for our movement, but in such contests the message and the program of the CCF has been brought to thousands of Canadians."

CASE SAYS VICTORY FOR BOYS OVERSEAS

OWEN SOUND, Ont., Feb. 6.—(CP)—Garfield Case, winner in the Grey North by-election, said last night after the results were known that he did not look upon the victory as a personal one, but rather as one for "my people . . . and the boys overseas."

"With this mandate, may I assure you that I will go forward, not in any sense to represent only those who have supported me, but each and every citizen in this riding and I hope you consider me your representative in its broadest sense," said Mr. Case.

He said he wished to congratulate his opponents—Defence Minister MacNaughton, government candidate, and Air Vice-Marshal E. K. Godfrey, CCF candidate—for the clean way in which the campaign was fought.

He thanked those who had helped him during the campaign and expressed the hope that he would be able to discharge his responsibility to the entire satisfaction of everyone in the constituency.

Mr. Case, who broadcast the statement over the local radio station, spoke shortly before Air Vice-Marshal Godfrey went on the air and thanked those who had supported him and helped during the campaign.

was noted that Gen. MacNaughton could not give his full attention to a political campaign and at the same time discharge his duties as minister of national defence. The returns made it apparent, he added, that had Gen. MacNaughton's time in the constituency not been so limited he would have been elected

General Election Inevitable

General McNaughton's defeat in North Grey yesterday creates the necessity for an immediate general election.

A powerful political factor has been thrown into the war effort by the Progressive Conservatives and the CCF, and until the people of Canada are able to offer a general decision on this political factor the country cannot pursue its war aims with satisfactory unanimity.

Prime Minister King's statement on the by-election indicates that the Government fully appreciates this necessity for, whether one agrees with General McNaughton or not, it is obvious that a war session of Parliament without a war minister in the House would be something of a farce.

The riding of North Grey has no unbreakable political traditions. Out of 19 general elections in which it has participated, it has elected 10 Liberals and nine Conservatives.

The three parties waged a hot campaign, though as the Prime Minister says, General McNaughton's duties prevented him giving full attention to it.

The waning of the CCF star is to be noted.

No matter how unfortunate the national implications of this by-election may be, the plain fact is that the electors of North Grey did not like the anti-conscription policies of General McNaughton and reaffirmed the verdict of the plebiscite of 1942.

Alberta's Soldier Member

Congratulations are due to Capt. J. Harper Prowse, elected to represent Alberta soldiers in the provincial legislature. Capt. Prowse was born in Taber, Alta., but made his home in Edmonton for several years before the war, is a graduate of the University of Alberta, and left his duties as a member of the editorial staff of The Bulletin in 1940 to join The Loyal Edmonton Regiment as a reinforcement officer.

He went overseas a year later, took commando training, was in on the invasion of Sicily, and has been in the thick of the fighting in Italy ever since. He has been twice wounded.

As a result of the election, the army overseas is to lose a good fighting man and a capable officer while the legislature is in session, but the Alberta soldiers gain a representative who is well qualified to present their views in the legislature of the province.

Congratulations are also in order to Chief Petty Officer Loftus Dudley Ward and Squadron Leader F. C. Colborne, DFC, both of Calgary, who are the Navy and Air Force representatives in the legislature.

Too Many Accidents

Three more Edmonton persons were injured in traffic accidents over the past week end. The list is growing far too long.

It is obvious that the nature of the weather, with icy streets and treacherous traction, is bound to render automobile driving more hazardous. But this fact does not excuse an increase in accidents. Its only effect should be to render drivers more cautious.

In other words, if there is a direct relation, as there should be, between traffic hazards and traffic caution, there is no reason on earth why bad weather should run up the accident toll.

There is only one way, of course, to deal with such a situation. And that is by applying the limit of the law to those who drive in a manner which can be regarded as careless, all circumstances being considered.

The use of automobiles for pleasure driving at present is more or less of an outlaw use. The least the drivers can do is to operate with utmost care.

Edmonton's Philharmonic

The second concert of the newly-formed Edmonton Philharmonic Orchestra seems to establish the definite fact that the new venture has fallen into the hands of an extremely talented group of musicians who can do something really tangible for this community in an artistic way if they are given half a chance.

"Half a chance" means the sturdy and continued support of Edmonton people.

At the present time, that support is not what might be called over-strenuous. The large number of empty seats on Sunday would seem to indicate that many Edmonton folk are waiting to see what the future of the Philharmonic may be.

It is surely apparent now that so far as the quality of the orchestra is concerned it has all the ingredients of success. Its future, then, depends upon what the Edmonton community is prepared to do for it.

The Philharmonic can be a great community asset. It would be a very great pity if Edmonton people fail to make it so.

He Did the Job

General MacArthur can go "back to Bataan" whenever he wants to. If there still are Japs lurking in the fox-holes there they are cornered and can be exterminated in whatever way seems most convenient. The capture of Manila sealed their fate—and broke Japanese power in the Philippines.

Their capital freed, the Filipinos can now get into the fight as organized forces and help to mop up the enemy bands in the jungle. They used to be good at that sort of fighting and should find it easy to revive the art.

One immediate result is the freeing of thousands of American and British prisoners-of-war and civilian internees. The city, it is said, has not been badly damaged, largely because there was no need of a prolonged attack and heavy bombardment.

Why the Japs failed to offer strong resistance, either in the city or on the approaches, is speculation. One theory is that the army is peeved because the navy has not brought its main fleet out of hiding and offered all-out battle. An equally probable explanation is that the Jap soldier has decided the odds are too heavy against him in the island warfare and doesn't respond any longer to Kato's "do or die" exhortations.

Whatever the reason, the important fact is that the Japanese grip on the Philippines has been broken, in quick time and at less cost than was expected. This enemy bulwark has been turned into an advanced Allied base, from which attacks by air and sea can be launched against Jap-held positions on the China coast and against Japan itself.

It was a good day's work for the Allies when President Roosevelt nearly three years ago ordered MacArthur to get out of Bataan and organize a come-back.

It is less important now than it would have been a year ago, but there is some satisfaction in reading that bombers on Saturday planted eight block-busters squarely on Goering's air headquarters in Berlin. Maybe they overdid the thing and wasted some explosives; still it was a good idea to make a job of the business. Hermann likely was not among those present when the bombs landed, having changed his mind since the time he told Berliners no hostile planes would ever darken their sacred skies.

SIDE GLANCES—"The writer of this serial must have a mean streak in him—he has kept that poor widow sick in bed for five weeks!"

How "Duchess of Atholl" Sank

MONTREAL.—(Passed by Censor)—Giving precedence to the things which came first for a seafaring man, a straightforward "master's report to owner" on the sinking of the Canadian Pacific's Duchess of Atholl tells the story of the last three hours of a gallant ship from a professional's viewpoint.

In fortnight sailor fashion Captain H. A. Moore, OBE, who wrote the report, is understandably proud of getting 21 persons to safety in 50 minutes.

He praises the catering department for finding time to provide special "treats" for children who were to be for 31 hours in lifeboats before being rescued.

For the pursuer he has a special word, noting that this officer, working on damaged safes to recover passengers' valuables, took off £4,400 and left only when ordered to do so.

The report, released here after a London story announced that the "Atholl" had been sunk in the fall of 1942 by a German submarine, reveals that four members of the engine room crew were killed.

They died in an explosion following the first of the three torpedoes which blasted the life from this aristocrat of the seas which brought Canada the first British war guests—1,000 of them—in 1940.

When she "kidd" gently down by the stern" there in the Atlantic more than two years ago the "Atholl" was a war dawner in grim grey paint, a far cry from the pre-war duchess with her superstructure in gleaming white.

Like all 20 of the Canadian Pacific's ocean and B.C. coast service vessels on Admiralty service—10 of which have been announced as lost—she went wherever the need for shipping was greatest. Only a little more than a month before the "Atholl" was sunk on October 10, 1942, she served in the Madagascar Expedition to Diego Suarez.

Her captain was mentioned in despatches for his services then and was created an Officer of the Order of the British Empire for his leadership during the sinking with his honors being part of a list of 70 such entries on the Canadian Pacific's honor roll of the sea.

The "Atholl" was as ready as she could be for the attack. Her boats the captain reported, "were in the water while the ship was at anchor (11 days before the sinking) and at that time the motor boats were given a good run. In addition the engines in the motor boats were turned daily while stowed."

The candy and chocolates placed in the boats would give almost a picnic aspect to it for youngsters so stout-hearted as to laugh at their Nazi questioners, as these are reported to have done in a London news story.

Of that questioning Capt. Moore passed on the report of an army officer, one of many soldiers aboard, who told of a two-pounder being "trained on us" with a machine gun in reserve.

Although the pursuer had an extremely difficult time with the damaged safes, "working in the dark with the aid of only one torch," some coin, cheque and stamps was all that was left behind.

Capt. Moore is one of the best known of Canadian Pacific masters from those peace days when hundreds of Canadians made holiday crossings in the quiet luxury of liners he has commanded since 1933, including the Duchesses of Richmond, Bedford and Atholl, the

Mr. Wallace's Better America

High Objectives for Post-War Standards of Living

By R. T. RICHARDSON

WASHINGTON: The idea of Henry Wallace on managing American economic life in order to maintain employment at a level of 60,000,000 jobs and a national production worth $200,000,000,000 a year—which is double the production level in the best pre-war years—has become the centre of a storm of debate in the light of Mr. Wallace's nomination as Secretary of Commerce. With these objectives, few disagree. With Mr. Wallace's proposal for implementing them, there is plenty of disagreement. But an observer is struck immediately with the poverty of plans, outside the Wallace proposals, for the maintenance of prosperity in the United States. If there are alternatives, no one is advocating them loudly enough for most people to hear.

The United States, he said, in a statement before the senate commerce committee, has doubled its productive capacity, turning out goods and services worth $200,000,000,000 a year, with 32,000,000 workers and 12,000,000 in uniform. Pre-depression national income was Montrose and the Montcalm. He also has been master of two of the Beaver fast freighters and was staff captain on the "Bedford" and the Empress of France.

In World War I he was in one of the first naval attacks, serving as a lieutenant in HMS Halcyon when she engaged the German cruisers which shelled Yarmouth, England, in October of 1914.

His time was served in sail and he was an officer once in the Eskasoni owned in Windsor, N.S. He followed his father to sea and into the Canadian Pacific. The elder Moore, Capt. J. H. Moore, was for years in the Canadian Pacific's Atlantic service and the Mount Temple was one of his commands.

Mr. Wallace listed eight economic "rights" which President Roosevelt enumerated in his message to Congress in January, and suggested how to achieve them.

1. The right to a useful and remunerative job. This means new facilities, new plants, and new equipment. The funds required should come from private investment, but that alone is not enough. "I propose," he said, "that the government guarantee the lender against the special and abnormal risks involved in achieving our objective." He estimated that $20,000,000,000 annually could be available in new private investment, creating 5,000,000 new jobs in building plants and machinery. But foreign trade was also essential. He said: "Some parts of our industrial and agricultural production demand a high level of foreign trade to be efficient and prosperous."

Mr. Wallace estimated American foreign trade could be trebled after the war, providing 3,000,000 new jobs and helping to lay "the economic foundations for a lasting peace."

"America will not be merely a seller of goods abroad. A truly prosperous America, an America, with jobs for all, will be a tremendous buyer of raw materials and products abroad. It will be an America constantly enlarging the scope of our reciprocal trade agreements. It will be an America with the time and money to spend on tourist travel, abroad as well as

$83,000,000,000 and it fell to $40,000,000,000 in the dismal '30's. America's capacity, he said, "staggered the imagination." But its full use cannot be accomplished "by a small segment of business and finance even though that small segment consists of the giants of industry and the tycoons of American finance."

Mr. Wallace's formula—what he calls implementing "the economic bill of rights"—places emphasis on production, not on "quick remedy or cure-all" of subsidized consumption.

Mr. Wallace listed eight economic "rights" which President Roosevelt enumerated in his message to Congress in January, and suggested how to achieve them.

2. The right to earn enough for food, clothing and recreation. He added he would like to see a guaranteed minimum annual wage. 3. The right of a farmer to a decent living. The U.S. farmers now enjoy the largest farm income in history. For the future, Mr. Wallace said, there should be an adequate floor under farm prices, crop insurance against hazards, and rural housing and electrification on an ample scale. 4. The right of business freedom from unfair competition and the domination of monopolies. 5. The right of every family to a decent home. He proposed construction of 2,000,000 new housing units a year, with elimination of slums by replacing them with 15,000,000 new units. Homes would be full of equipment and credit terms provided to all payments to be cut by one-third. Such a program would provide jobs for 4,000,000, double the pre-war number. 6. Regarding the right to health services, Mr. Wallace proposed a national health scheme, with medical attention for all, allowing the individual to choose his own doctor. 7. As protection against economic fears of old age, sickness, accident and unemployment, Mr. Wallace proposed a broader social security system. In such a program, he estimated that 2,000,000 jobs would be added to national employment. 8. The right to education. He said the United States needs more schools and 500,000 more teachers. He proposed federal aid for poorer communities and provision of free education not only in primary and secondary schools, but in technical and higher schools.

Mr. Wallace estimated American foreign trade could be trebled after the war, providing 3,000,000 new jobs and helping to lay "the economic foundations for a lasting peace."

"America will not be merely a seller of goods abroad. A truly prosperous America, an America, with jobs for all, will be a tremendous buyer of raw materials and products abroad. It will be an America constantly enlarging the scope of our reciprocal trade agreements. It will be an America with the time and money to spend on tourist travel, abroad as well as

Emotions Too Deep for Tears

By BRUCE HUTCHISON

The first seed catalogue has arrived. This may not be striking news to you but to the gardener it is the first deep sacrament of the year, the promise of growth and returning life in the winter's soil, the assurance that, for all the strange events of our times, things at bottom are very much the same as ever and never change.

Let no profane hand touch the seed catalogue, let no layman's unpurified eye gaze upon its contents, and let no one disturb the true believer as he sucks from its mysteries the reviving juice of spring. To the unredeemed who care not for the soil the seed catalogue is a list of seeds and a colored picture of blossoms and vegetables and fruits that never turn out that way in the garden. To such a mind the gardener, poring over the catalogues in the depth of winter, is a spectacle of derision or pathos. He is a fool who refuses to occupy himself with the urgent concerns of humanity or a poor deluded wretch who is never able to achieve the glorious promise of the seed advertisement.

The gardener is neither. We pat when he boasts of giant squashes already achieved and more gigantic ones promised by the catalogue. Try not to smile, you long-enduring wives, when he plots and re-plots his garden all over the dining-room table and asks for two dollars and a half to buy a new rake or shovel.

Such men may appear ridiculous or pathetic but you can tie to them. There is no guile in the man who is reading the February seed catalogue, no possibility of deception and you may safely lend him your money, in limited amounts. For you may be sure that there is a purpose and a continuity in this man's life which will not falter. He will still be here in the autumn, bound to the earth by his ripening harvest, his credit is sound in the bank of the gods, who return full wages for his labors.

Trust him but waste no sympathy on him for he is a happy man, about the only happy man left in our species. Though he huddle by night over movie pictures and price figures printed in a tiny book, though he gurgles to himself in language unintelligible, though he rocks with silent delight and senseless laughter, though he stand in his frozen garden, shivering with glazed eyes over his dead plot of ground, though he go about his daily tasks like a man who nourishes a superior knowledge, a private secret in his bosom, do not pity him for his oddity, nor condemn him because he does not conform to society's strict rules. He is content, he is warmed in the coldest weather by the sure flame of hope, re-lighted by his catalogue, and he belongs to another society, the oldest on earth, the society of Adam, and he is about to create once more, this spring, his own peculiar Eden.

Regard him, therefore, with reverence as he peers longingly at the seed catalogue, still awaits him.

The seed catalogue is the first foretaste of this bliss. It may smell of printer's ink to the heretic and heathen but to the believer it wafts the airs of paradise into his winter-bound room. It is not the guarantee of success in the summer garden. It is the outward and visible sign of a far-off possibility, that perfect garden which the faithful may some day see. It is the symbol of ultimate faith and the man who reads it, however rough and ungaily he may appear, is religious to the core.

The catalogue is his prayer book, the planting directions are his catechism and the insect pests are the cross which he must carry to the end.

Regard him, therefore, with reverence as he peers longingly at the seed catalogue, still awaits him.

"Ninety per cent of all per-fumes are coal," they said, adding that "sweaters treated with a coal-tar process wouldn't shrink, that furniture processed with coal tar wouldn't stain, burn or show wear and tear. They bounced a plastic glass off the floor and said if it wasn't for coal it would smash into a hundred pieces."

"They spilled ketchup on a tablecloth and said if it weren't for coal you couldn't get the ketchup off in one swipe."

"They said coal was the red in lipstick, the black in mascara and the scent in soaps."

Coal has become the "Cinderella" of this age. The early days of hardship are almost over, and this modern Cinderella is being decked out in marvellous new designs and accoutrements!

Coupled with that Bituminous Coal Institute's optimistic and successful display of coal by-products comes the news of "expansion of government efforts to develop synthetic liquid fuels from new dahlia and the improved nasturtium. Answer him gently when his eyes light up and he bores you with his tales of triumphs past and future hopes. Be patient when he boasts of giant squashes already achieved and more gigantic ones promised by the catalogue. Try not to smile, you long-enduring wives, when he plots and re-plots his garden all over the dining-room table and asks for two dollars and a half to buy a new rake or shovel.

Many Uses for Coal

The Halifax Herald

The Bituminous Coal Institute in the United States has just declared that "practically everything that makes a woman glamorous stems from a lowly lump of coal."

Nylons, of course, are an old story now. But many other products, the institute points out, also come from coal:

"Ninety per cent of all per-fumes are coal," they said, adding that "sweaters treated with a coal-tar process wouldn't shrink, that furniture processed with coal tar wouldn't stain, burn or show wear and tear. They bounced a plastic glass off the floor and said if it wasn't for coal it would smash into a hundred pieces."

"They spilled ketchup on a tablecloth and said if it weren't for coal you couldn't get the ketchup off in one swipe."

"They said coal was the red in lipstick, the black in mascara and the scent in soaps."

Coal has become the "Cinderella" of this age. The early days of hardship are almost over, and this modern Cinderella is being decked out in marvellous new designs and accoutrements!

Coupled with that Bituminous Coal Institute's optimistic and successful display of coal by-products comes the news of "expansion of government efforts to develop synthetic liquid fuels from coal products," provided for in Mr. Roosevelt's 1946 budget.

In a recent message to Congress the President recommended "an increase in the appropriations for development of synthetic liquid fuels from $5,000,000 in the current fiscal year to $13,000,000 for 1946." "This," he pointed out, "will enable the Bureau of Mines to prepare designs and let contracts for construction of several demonstration plants. Thirty million dollars was authorized to be appropriated for this purpose by the Act of April 5, 1944. Five million dollars has already been appropriated."

If the trend of modern times is away from coal as a fuel, then it is high time that energetic and exhaustive investigation into the possibilities of coal as a basis for new products, for greater development of already known by-products, were carried out.

The skipper and the engineer were arguing. The latter said that steering a ship was far easier than looking after the engines, and the captain said that looking after the engines was child's play compared with steering. They decided to settle the argument by changing places.

After ten minutes the captain had to admit he was beaten. "Macpherson," he shouted, "I can't get the engines to start!" "That's all right," replied the engineer. "My needna bother—we're aground."

TOMMY DARK'S possible on the early draw yesterday morning claimed most of the spotlight on the opening day of the bonspiel. A perfect end in curling really is something and Tommy had to take out the shot with his last rock to turn the trick, which added just that much more to the occasion. Other members of the Dark rink are Bill Freeman, Jack Starky and Rowan MacKenzie.

Monday, however, was a bad day for the Robinson clan. The odd part is that both Bert, who stoutly maintains Jasper is the one best spot on earth, and Bob who gives Edson as his home address, are skipping rinks generally looked upon as being "tough" but they just didn't have what it takes yesterday.

Dalglish of Grande Prairie took Bert out 10-4 in the Visitors and Coatta of Tofted stopped him 8-7 on the 4:30. Bob dropped a 16-8 session to Hanbridge of Kerrobert in the Visitors, while Hargreaves of Jasper bumped him 14-9 in the Challenge. And so the Robinsons will have to start all over again today.

SEVEN EXTRA-ENDERS

THERE were seven extra-enders on Monday. Charlie Cairns got away to a good start by edging out Alex Latta of the Thistle 9-8. Friend, Botha, won from Becker, Crossfield, 10-7 on the 11:30. Dennis of Dewberry beat Larson, LaGlance 10-9, while Chamney of Provost tripped Nicholson, Cadomin, 13-8, and Akins, Innisfree, downed Jessup, Coronation, 12-9, all on the 2 p.m. draw.

Akins got tangled up in another 11-ender on the 7 o'clock, but he lost this one to Bert Delves of the Royal 10-8. Willis of the Royal won his on the 9:30 draw, taking out Harper of Provost 9-5.

Purvis of Crossfield, another strong rink, lost his game in the Challenge to McLevin of Red Deer 8-5, but he won his first. Fred Kemp, who has a stout curling aggregation this year, came up with a pair of wins. Fred has Dave Clayton at third, Bob Price throwing second rocks and Doug Hamilton leading.

YOUNGEST IN 'SPIEL

LOYD LARSON, who plays second rocks for his father C. L. Larson of LaGlance, is the youngest curler in the bonspiel and he's tossing his share of good rocks. Just 14 years of age, Lloyd has a beautiful delivery, takes the broom well and usually makes his shot.

The Larson rink dropped an extra-ender to Dennill of Dewberry, but bounced right back to win from Father Rooney of Westlock on the 7 o'clock draw. Played at the Granite, this game attracted most of the gallery.

Lloyd has been curling three years and his pop says he really takes the game seriously. Incidentally he skipped a rink made up of boys his own age in the recent 'spiel at LaGlance and cleaned up, and added his father, "the rink he beat in the final was the one which took me out."

To Ban "Inside" Dope

Majors Planning to Prevent Gambling on Baseball Games

NEW YORK, Feb. 6.—(AP)—Gambling on baseball games will be subjected to a searching investigation by both major leagues and steps will be taken to ban information of pitching selections and other "inside" dope that might promote the illegal practice.

Presidents Will Harridge of the American League and Ford Frick of the National League Monday declared an open war on the gambling element that they fear will swing toward baseball if United States race tracks still are closed in April when the season opens.

"I note that the international league has forbidden managers to give out pitchers' names in advance," observed Harridge. "We will proceed along the same line."

Frick said he had similar moves in mind and other more direct checks that could not be disclosed for obvious reasons.

"We will take every precaution to stamp out any sign of gambling in ball parks as we always have done," commented the national league head. "With a lot of youngsters in the big show for the first time we will have to be extra careful."

Both league executives said they had no immediate plans for a trip to Washington as a result of the joint declaration naming them as baseball's representatives in Washington.

"It all depends on what happens to the national service legislation," stated Harridge.

No date has been set for the next joint meeting and no owner has asked either president to request secretary Leslie M. O'Connor to make such a call. By baseball law there must be a 15-day lapse between a request and a session.

Although the leagues failed to name any special committee to get in touch with "candidates" for the commission, it is understood the league offices will act as a clearing house for all information.

BYRNES MAY RECOGNIZE VALUE OF WARTIME BALL

NEW YORK, Feb. 6.—(AP)—Optimism for the continuance of baseball was the keynote of the three-day session of the major leagues which ended Sunday with the annual dinner of the New York chapter of the Baseball Writers' Association of America.

Perhaps the most heartening news heard by the 1,200 baseball people consisting of club owners, league officials, writers and fans who jammed the Hotel Astor ballroom was Col. Larry MacPhail's prediction that James F. Byrnes, war mobilization director, would come to recognize the value of wartime baseball.

"I have been with Undersecretary of War Patterson for 2½ years," the head of the syndicate that recently bought the New York Yankees told the audience. "I know he thinks that expenditures of manpower and transportation for baseball are worthwhile. I think Mr. Byrnes will come to that same decision."

St. Mike's Wins

16 of 17 Games

TORONTO, Feb. 6.—(CP)—St. Michaels gave Galt Red Wings a 14-2 hockey lesson Saturday in the OHA junior "A" series to lead the league with 16 victories in 17 games for 32 points. St. Catharines, playing Oshawa in the motor city, remained in runner-up position by handing Generals a 5-3 defeat in a game featured during the final minutes by a battle royal which resulted in a flock of penalties.

Leo Gravelle ran wild for St. Mike's in the Toronto fixture, scoring six goals, followed by Joe Sadler with three. To Sloan notched two. Johnny Blute, J. Thomson and Johnny McCormack each got one.

Joyce Decisions

Chalky Wright

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 6.—(AP)—Willie Joyce, 135½, Gary, Ind., decided Chalky Wright, 132½, Los Angeles, in 10 rounds at the Arena last night. A crowd of 6,324 paid a gate of $16,651 to see Joyce hit Wright often though not hard throughout the fight. Wright threw some hard left jabs and right crosses which apparently hurt Joyce in the first four rounds, but Joyce continued to jolt Wright with his jabs and eventually forced Wright to concentrate on body blows.

Battle For Lead

In Quebec Senior

MONTREAL, Feb. 6.—(CP)—Nils Tremblay of Quebec Aces and Joe Carthy of Montreal Royals are waging a tight battle for scoring honors in the Quebec Senior Hockey League, with Tremblay holding a slight edge at the moment.

Scoring statistics based on official game figures including games played Jan. 28 and unofficial tabulations since then showed Tremblay leading the pack with 44 points, one ahead of Carthy.

Port Arthur Navy

Downs Monarchs

PORT ARTHUR, Feb. 6.—(CP)—Pentil Lund, leading scorer in the Thunder Bay Junior hockey league, last night scored a spectacular solo goal late in the third period to give Port Arthur navy a 3-2 victory over Winnipeg Monarchs, leaders of the Manitoba hockey league, south division, in an exhibition game here. It was the second defeat for Monarchs this year.

Softball Tourney

JOHNSTON CITY, Tenn., Feb. 6.—(AP)—The 1945 international softball tournament will be held at Lakewood stadium, Cleveland, Ohio, Raymond Johnson, president of the Amateur Softball Association announced here last night. Tournament dates will be Sept. 12-17.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—(AP)—Jimmy Bivins, 188, Cleveland, technically knocked out George Parks, 184, Washington, in the fourth round of a scheduled 10-round bout last night.

Six Draws Run Off in Three Competitions as Big Curling Event Opens

Good Progress Made First Day of 'Spiel

Dark Rink's Eight-Ender Is Highlight

SIX draws, confined to three competitions, Edmonton Motors (City), Calgary Brewing (Visitors) and Grand Challenge, were run off on Monday as the 28th annual bonspiel of the Alberta Curling Association got under way.

Feature of the day's curling, of course, was the eight-ender put over by Tommy Dark's rink against the J. M. Cumming quartet, also from the Royal, on the opening draw of the 'spiel. The perfect end came with the score deadlocked 4-4 and when Skip Dark removed Cumming's shot rock, the game was over with the count 12-4.

All but three of the games on the early draw today were in the Visitors and Edmonton Motors events, the trio being Challenge affairs. In two cases unbeaten rinks are opposing each other at the Alberta Ave. this morning.

Hanbridge of Kerrobert meets Williams of Calgary, and "Whit" Mathews clashes with his fellow club-member from the Royal. All four won two in a row on Monday.

The games on the 11:30 draw today are chiefly in the Challenge, but three are in the Bank of Montreal event and one in the Edmonton Motors.

Few upsets marked the first day's play, probably the most notable exceptions being the double defeats sustained by Bert Robinson of Jasper and his brother Bob of Edson. The latter won the Calgary Brewing trophy a year ago, but his initial loss yesterday was in that competition.

Otherwise the "big" rinks appeared to come through pretty well on schedule. Mannahan, big winner last year with 17 straight 'spiel victories defeated Croft, Granite 9-5 in the City event and won from Yakubski in the Challenge on the 4:30 draw.

Haight and Williams of Calgary won both starts, but Basil Hills, dropped both games, being beaten by Yakubski of Tofted 12-7 in the visitors and by Webb brothers of Mirror 10-9 on the 9:30 p.m. draw.

Hargreaves of Jasper, Coatta of Tofted, Patterson of the Granite, McLevin of Red Deer, McLaughlin and McLaren of the Royal, Rev. E. B. Brundage of Daysland, Billy Rose of Sedgewick, Flynn of Dawson Creek, Gutowski of Daysland, Berreth of Innisfail, Barth of Millet, Brown of Leduc, Cairns of the Edmonton, Robertson of the Granite, Dalglish and Duncan of Grande Prairie, all are included in the list of top game winners.

Smythe Claims Government Unaware NHL Contribution

MONTREAL, Feb. 6.—(CP)—If Conny Smythe of Toronto Maple Leafs has his way the National Hockey League is going to do a lot more pointing with pride to the 165 former NHL players in the armed forces, and at the same time it is going to press for a clear mandate to take back hockey players who have received their army discharge.

"Why should we cringe and cower?" Conny is quoted as asking in Baz O'Meara's column in the Montreal Star Monday. "Why should we be booed around as though we were doing something dishonorable and against the war effort?"

"Nobody points out that we have 165 of our men in the services. Three of our Maple Leaf players, Fox, Garrett and Tilson, were killed overseas. Fox had already played in the NHL, so had Garrett and everybody says Tilson would have been a star. He was on our direct list."

(Smythe is referring to Jack Fox of Winnipeg, the first professional hockey player to be killed overseas, Albert (Red) Tilson of Regina, and Dudley (Red) Garrett of Toronto. Fox and Tilson served with the army, Garrett with the navy.)

"Show me any baseball team that has lost three players killed. Show me any other sport, or, in fact, any business that has placed over 50 per cent of its men under the colors."

"It is time we quit pussyfooting, time we laid our cards on the table. The government is unaware of our contribution because nobody has had the gumption to tell the plain facts."

"All we ask is that 150 men be permitted to play hockey next year. We ask that men who have done everything the government has asked them to do should be allowed to pursue their business the same as everybody else."

"Some of these players have been unable to go overseas because they were retained in Canada by their superiors. That is not their fault. Yet they are not permitted to rejoin their clubs in full measure. Why the discrimination? If any other people are demobilized, or any others deferred for recall, for instance to the RCAF, they can cross the line under the usual regulations."

Ski Event To Be Held on Sunday

Edmonton ski fans once again will have the opportunity of witnessing what promises to be a spectacular exhibition of ski jumping and slalom racing at the Edmonton Ski Club's hill on Connors Road. This event is scheduled for next Sunday, Feb. 11 at 2:30 o'clock.

A large number of the Edmonton Ski Club's active members are now in the armed forces, but during the past few years some of the younger skiers have shown great promise and expect to put on a real show. Besides local talent, a number of outsiders are expected to be on hand.

While the game lacked good hockey, it sent the crowd of a little more than five hundred fans home with plenty to talk about. They witnessed lots of penalties, 21 all told, including two misconducts, one to Neil Wilson of the EAC in the second period, and the other to Jim Lawrie of the Leafs in the last frame. In addition, a couple of "brawls" broke out which resulted in five more of the young pucksters drawing majors.

Pettinger, Moore and Duffield with two each, and Blyth one, were the scorers for the EAC's, while Pringle rang up both markers for the Maple Leafs.

Jackie Manson returned to Maple Leafs' nets last night, after being absent for several games, and Grant DeFaine stood between the pipes for the EAC club in place of Sparky Milner, who has been guarding their fort for the majority of the games this season. Manson had 38 shots to stop while DeFaine had 23.

Outscoring their opponents 2-0 in the first period, 2-1 in the second and 3-1 in the final session, the winners were always in the driver's seat.

In the sandwich period, Alan Shantz and Bud Pringle got a little overheated and started to swing with their fists. Then nearing the late stages of the final frame, Mike Thomas and Neil Wilson began shoving each other around behind the Leafs' net. This set the stage for the battle royal of the evening, the main-eventers being Lawrie and Neil of the Maple Leafs and Shantz and Gauf of the EAC's.

All four were sent to the "sin bin" to cool off and Lawrie left Referee Bill Rung know he was displeased with him in outspoken terms. However, the official would not have any part of it and banished the player for the rest of the game.

Believe It Or Not

Today's Sport Parade

By Jack Cuddy

NEW YORK, Feb. 6.—(BUP)—Elmer (Violent) Ray, who made his New York debut at little St. Nicholas arena last night, is called a "hot" heavyweight by the boxing Boswells because of his string of 23 straight victories. But the hard-punching Florida negro disagrees with the writers.

Through chattering teeth Elmer says, "Ah's frozen to death." The hot-shot from Hastings, Fla., spending his first winter in the North, just "can't get warm" although his sympathetic manager—Tommy O'Loughlin of Minneapolis—has provided the shivering pug with a huge sheep-skin coat, fur-lined boots, fur-lined mittens and an Arctic cap that pulls down over the face, leaving only eye holes exposed.

In addition, Pilot O'Loughlin arranged for quaking Elmer to do his morning roadwork in cozy quarters, instead of sending him out to run around the reservoir in Central Park where old man winter could get a clean puff at him. No, indeed, Elmer did his roadwork in a riding academy near the park, trotting around the tankard with puzzled horses and equestrians.

CAN'T KEEP HIM WARM

O'LOUGHLIN says, "building superintendents think they have a heating problem on their hands because of the wartime shortage of fuel. Well, they should be in my shoes for 24 hours, trying to keep this big boy warm—particularly in the frigid dressing rooms of small clubs. We have to carry our own electric heater to prevent Elmer from shaking himself to pieces when disrobing, showering and dressing. Sure, it's a lot of bother; but it's quite worth while because Elmer certainly gets hot at the right time—when he's in the ring."

The cauliflower clan gathered at St. Nick's last night to see just how hot is this "violent ray". The long armed Sam-Langford negro was matched for 10 rounds with brown-skinned Johnny White of Jersey City, who recently fought a draw with Fernando Menichelli of Argentinian. It was an all-important test for Ray. Ray was favored to win last night because of his reputation and his record. He knocked out 21 opponents in registering his 23 consecutive victories, according to O'Loughlin. These victories were achieved in California, Chicago, New Orleans and Boston. The opponents included Perk Daniels and Earl Lowman—two rough customers. In his previous last ring appearance he knocked out one Henry Jones at Boston on Jan. 25.

STARTED TWO YEARS AGO

ELMER, now 27, began moving toward the big time two years ago when O'Loughlin, in Florida with another fighter, saw him sitting on a truck before a store in Hastings. Noting Elmer's cauliflower ear, O'Loughlin asked him if he would serve as a sparring partner.

Ray said he didn't know much about sparring, as his previous activities had been limited to battle royals. However, he went to the gymnasium and—battered O'Loughlin's pug, Pilot Tommy got out a contract in a hurry.

Ray is long-armed and built somewhat like Sam Langford, when blind Sam was a youngster. He packs 195 pounds on a sawed-off beam of five feet 10½ inches. O'Loughlin says, "he's the hardest punching heavyweight in the ring today, with the sole exception of Joe Louis. He knocks 'em dead with either hand."

Vic Cagers Boost Averages In Trimming 49th 56-29

The second-place Victoria High School cagers took advantage of the cellar-dwelling 49th Battalion Club to "fatten" their scoring averages Monday night when they trounced the Army team 56-29 in the second game of the Edmonton Men's Basketball League doubleheader at the McDougall school gym. The top-place University hoopers won 37-24 over YMCA in the opener.

Jim Macrae, Bill Price and John Boer, Vic's high scoring forwards, showed the way and moved well out in front in the points race. Jim collected 16 counters to boost his total to 75 in seven games and became solo leader of the parade.

Price's 14 left him just two points behind Macrae while Boer, who also picked up 14 last night, is in fourth spot with 45. Varsity's Don Woolley is third with 36.

Victoria opened its strong attack in the first quarter and out-scored the winless Forty-Niners 17-6 to grab a nice lead right at the start. They increased the margin to 28-14 by the half way mark, adding 11 while the losers were held to eight in the second.

The winners hit their stride again in the third session and went on to mark up another neat 17 counters while again holding the Army cagers to eight, boosting their lead to 45-22 going into the home stretch. They still held command in the last frame, although the Forty-Niners appeared hopelessly beaten, and out-scored the losers 11-7.

First Lloydminster Flier to Win DFC, Ends Tour, Now on Leave

LLOYDMINSTER: Believed to be the first Lloydminster man to complete a tour of operations and receive a decoration, F.O. G. W. Duffield, DFC, this week was spending some well-earned leave at his home here. He is the son of Mrs. J. S. Duffield.

F.O. Duffield enlisted in the RCAF in 1941, shipped across the Atlantic the same year, and as a bomber pilot, made many sorties over heavily-defended targets in France and Germany. Later he was transferred to North Africa and was among the men in blue who provided aerial support while men in khaki raced up Sicilian beaches to take the first punch at Hitler's Europe.

For the last 18 months, the officer has been instructing at bomber stations in Britain. He was awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross for devotion to duty and gallantry in action over Europe.

F.O. Duffield will be remembered by many Albertans as a former member of the Stettler Imperials and Camrose Maroons hockey aggregations.

Kiss and Tell, Bright Comedy, Wins Approval

"Kiss and Tell," a play in three acts by F. Hugh Herbert, produced by George Abbott, arrived at the Empire theatre Monday night and opened a week's engagement. While the audience was on the small side, it made up in enthusiasm and appreciation what it lacked in numbers, and there was every indication that the audience, like the rolling snowball in mild weather, will increase in size as the performances succeed one another.

Of its kind, "Kiss and Tell" belongs to the top drawer. Mind you, it is not a play likely to meet with unqualified approval for a theatre-party of brownies, girl guides or wolf cubs, or to be given in connection with the strawberry festival at a church.

But for those who incline to stage works variously described as "smart," "true-to-life," "modern," "sophisticated," or "up-to-date" this is one of the best.

FIGHTING WORDS

The language is forceful and unvarnished and contains one expression that is considered "fighting words," pard on the banks of the Saskatchewan, either east or west of the middle of "Old Muddy," or anywhere else on this continent. And it proved so in the play. The facts are placed before the audience with no effort to gain effect by inference, implication, or soft-peddling. It is direct action and appeal throughout.

But, granted the sensibilities will not be adversely affected by the naked truth, it is a highly diverting comedy, and as such was presented in a glittering performance by as capable and well-balanced a cast as has come this way in many months.

The story centres on Corliss Archer and her well-to-do parents, who are confused and confounded at the facility with which young people of today fall in love, and more especially with the dashing young men of the armed services.

The impressionable Corliss, seeking to be older than her years, encounters a series of entanglements which occupy three hilarious, rapid-fire acts to unravel.

AMUSING SITUATIONS

The play is replete with surprising and amusing situations. The unexpected is always turning up, and there is suspense, contrast and instantaneous change of pace. The direction of the play is first class, there being no opportunity overlooked for striking effect. There is not one weak spot in the cast, and thus a play that in less capable hands might fail, as performed by this company, was highly diverting, and consistently enjoyable.

HEAVY ASSIGNMENT

June Dayton as Corliss carried a heavy burden. Here was an exceptionally difficult assignment, but she emerged with infinite credit.

Walter Gilbert as Harry Archer was scintillating. It would have been difficult to improve on his portrayal of the role.

Each and every one of the large cast made a valuable contribution to the success and what has been said above also applies to Albert Vee, Kittle Cosgriff, David Gorden, Mary Keenan, Gene Fuller, Larry Semon, David Conlin, Ellen Hall, William David, Virginia Franke Davis, Irving Mitchell, Ernest Woodward, J.O.

To Build Memorial U. of A. Students

A "living war memorial" in the form of a scholarship fund to perpetuate the memory of graduates of the University of Alberta who have died in this war, was approved at a meeting Saturday of the council of the Alberta Alumni association. The scholarship will be known as the Alumni War Memorial Fund.

Members of the executive were authorized to investigate methods of securing such a fund.

It was pointed out that about $14,000 was subscribed after the last war for the memorial organ in Convocation Hall.

Mr. Justice Hugh John Macdonald, was installed as president of the association, and C. F. Taylor was re-elected secretary. W. E. Bowser was returned to office as treasurer and Louis D. Hyndman, K.C., was named executive member. Mr. Justice Ford, chancellor of the university was named honorary president.

Newspaper Fined

OTTAWA, Feb. 6.—(CP)—A judgment imposing a fine of $50 and costs of $3.40 on the Quebec city newspaper Le Soleil for breach of censorship regulations was made public here yesterday. The fine was imposed Jan. 25 by Judge Achille Pelletier in the court of sessions at Quebec and related to a story concerning the steamship "Cornwallis" published on Dec. 11.

Minister Says Alberta Could Help Housing

That the provincial government might aid in obtaining a solution to Edmonton's housing problem by "lifting restrictions to which loan companies are objecting" is suggested in a letter to the Edmonton Branch of the Canadian Legion from Hon. James A. MacKinnon, minister of trade and commerce.

Mr. MacKinnon's letter came in reply to a wire from the Edmonton Legion urging that Edmonton be placed in the emergency category along with Ottawa, Quebec and Victoria, and that temporary housing conversion, such as army buildings from Dawson Creek, being brought here, be continued.

Mr. MacKinnon's letter referred first to statements of Hon. J. L. Isley, minister of finance urging that all provinces take full advantage of the National Housing Act and ends up with:

"The more I see of this thing the more I am convinced that the quickest and simplest way in which the situation in Edmonton can be handled is by the provincial government lifting its restrictions to which loan companies are objecting."

Legion officials Monday said that Mr. MacKinnon's letter seemed to indicate a "squeeze play" by the Dominion government and the big loan companies to force certain action from the provincial government more favorable to the loan companies.

But even under more favorable conditions the present National Housing Act would afford no real relief to persons in ordinary circumstances in desperate need of housing in Edmonton at the moment, these officials contended.

HOW MANY

"How many ex-servicemen or dependents of servicemen are in position to put down 25 per cent cash on a new home, costing $4,000, or pay the monthly rental payment of from $37 up?" the officials asked.

Immediate action toward relief is still desperately needed, it was declared.

Rapists Hanged

BRUSSELS, Feb. 6.—(Reuters)—Two American soldiers, court-martialed on a charge of rape, were hanged Jan. 30 at Namur, the Belgian News Agency said yesterday.

Great Change Being Felt in Europe Areas

This course has one central theme—the spirit of unrest and change that has appeared and is appearing in the smaller countries of Europe, many of which have recently emerged from Nazi domination. Dr. Walter Johns, University of Alberta, declared at the opening of the third adult education series at Garneau school on Monday night.

This spirit of unrest appears in violent form in some countries such as Greece and with less violence in others. Each country reacts in a different way, but the basic trend has many features common to all. It marks the greatest social and political change in Europe since the French Revolution and is a change which will be of immense significance to Europe and the rest of the world as soon as Germany is defeated.

SOME CHANGES

"It is important for us to understand the immediate backgrounds of the countries concerned, particularly in the last decade, in order properly to understand the nature of the changes that are occurring and to evaluate their significance. The main emphasis is laid on the smaller countries because it is in them that the people will be permitted to give freest expression to their will. In Germany and Italy the new order which followed the last war never seems to have secured enough strong popular support and was thrust aside by the violent tactics of Nazism and Fascism. There the revolution became one of reaction. In the other countries the war has brought about a trend to more democratic government."

"The first country to examine is Spain, because it was there that the spirit of change was first given effect in recent times. It is true that the people's movement was crushed there by a counter-revolution staged with the active support of Italy and Germany, but the spirit of change is still there and observers feel that the collapse of Germany will be followed by the collapse of Franco's regime."

"In Greece the spirit of change has been suppressed in one way or another for years until at last the bitterness and hatred have boiled over and the eyes of the world have been focussed on the struggle. The great majority of people are anxious for peace and the moderate groups such as SKE and ELD have recently withdrawn their support from the more violent elements. The solution of Greece's internal problems will require the greatest of tact and even then the problem of national boundaries will add further confusion with possible encroachment from Bulgaria and Yugoslavia."

SIMILAR PROBLEMS

"The Balkan countries all have problems similar to those of Greece. Each has its own internal differences aggravated by terrible economic distress. In Poland all the normal problems exist with possible repercussions on other nations to complicate matters still further."

"France and Italy and Belgium have shown similar strains, but with a more advanced social order in these countries already, the changes may be expected to be less radical and less violent."

Breaks Leg

Slipping while going towards his engine, which he was bringing to Edmonton, early Sunday, A. E. Hall, 9903 81 avenue, Canadian Pacific Railway engineer, fell at Hardisty, breaking his leg. He was brought to the city of Smith's ambulance and admitted to Royal Alexandra hospital.

Glasses For Motormen

We expect car drivers to look before they start their cars—and we naturally expect motormen to do the same thing before starting their cars or buses. Pedestrians should make sure that the motormen are aware that they are crossing in front of buses or cars or be prepared to move fast, when these public conveyances move usually without warning.

Large Amount Clothes Given For Russians

The great Russian drive across the Polish plains and into Germany, has stimulated interest in the campaign to collect clothing to send to the people of the Soviet who are stinting themselves in order that the army may be supplied with vital necessities.

As a result a greater amount of clothing was received at the Aid-to-Russia clothing depot, Healy Motors Building, Jasper avenue and 105 street than on any other two days since the campaign opened, according to Mrs. Roy Harrison, adjutant of the Canadian Red Cross Society. District contributions over the week end were particularly gratifying. Mrs. Harrison said, mentioning that large parcels had been received from the Red Cross branches at Lamont, Edgerton and Wainwright.

VOLUNTEERS SERVICE

Another trucking company, the Sorensen Truck company, serving the Rocky Mountain House area, has volunteered to bring to Edmonton without charge donations from residents of this district.

Many varied articles of clothing and bedding were received Monday. Mrs. Harrison reported, and contributions of clothing for children have been excellent. Two welcome donations were women's muskrat and seal coats, both in fine condition.

Warm woollen underclothing for women is particularly needed. Mrs. Harrison stressed, "If you have any clothing of this type you don't need," she appealed, "please mail or bring it to the depot."

The "clothing for Russia" drive, sponsored here by the Edmonton branch of the National Council for Canadian-Soviet Friendship, will continue until the end of February.

Norwegian Official To Address Meeting

A man who served his country in organizing a number of secret broadcasting stations and later played a major part in resistance against Nazi invaders, Haakon Lie, former general secretary of the Workers' Educational League in Norway, will address a public meeting next Tuesday at 8 p.m. in the auditorium of the Masonic Temple.

Arrangements for the meeting have been made by the Sons of Norway lodge, "Solgilt," No. 143. Before and after the main address, musical entertainment will be provided. Earl Berg, lodge president, will be chairman.

Until September, 1941, when he was forced to leave Norway, Mr. Lie was one of the moving spirits in that country's underground movement. He went to the United States recently to serve as attaché with the Norwegian embassy in Washington.

In this capacity he keeps close contact with the Norwegian home front. He has lectured in many states since his arrival in the western hemisphere, under the auspices of the Norwegian Information Service.

During his visit to Edmonton, Mr. Lie will be guest speaker at the Edmonton Trades and Labor Council public meeting Thursday at 8 p.m. in the Masonic Temple. The Sons of Norway lodges have arranged addresses by him at Camrose on Feb. 14, and Viking on Feb. 16.

2 City Officers Win Promotion

Promotion of two Edmonton officers serving overseas with the Canadian Army was announced Tuesday by national defence headquarters at Ottawa.

They are Capt. Charles V. Lilley of 10380 81 avenue, promoted to Major and Lt. James H. Winteringham of 9833 89 avenue, promoted to captain.

Major Lilley on loan to the British Army, served with The Loyal Edmonton Regiment, NPAM, from 1931 to 1934 when he joined the Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry of the Permanent Force. He served with the PPCLI until 1936 when he joined The Loyal North Lancashire Regiment with which he served until 1942 when he enlisted in The Loyal Edmonton Regiment in London, England. He was selected for a commission and returned to Canada in 1943 to qualify, returning overseas in March, 1944.

Capt. Winteringham was employed by the Gutta Percha Rubber Company, before going on active service three years ago, after serving with the 19th Alberta Dragoons.

League Meeting On Wednesday

Regular meeting of the North Edmonton Community League will be held on Wednesday, Feb. 7, starting at 8 p.m.

All members are urged to attend this meeting as plans for a membership drive will be drawn up. President Orle Byers will be in the chair.

Locate Clothes

Suit of clothes, said to have been stolen Saturday from W. Melton, Dayton rooms, was located in a second hand store by city detectives Monday afternoon. Officers were informed that the suit had been sold to the second-hand dealer. Suspected is a man recently released from Fort Saskatchewan jail, police said.

TCA OFFICIAL HERE.—E. W. Stull, western superintendent for Trans Canada Air Lines who was an Edmonton visitor Tuesday with W. Fowler, assistant operations manager for TCA.

Police Launch Identification Check-Up Here

Swinging into action alongside military police and officers of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, city officers Monday began a systematic check-up of all persons in the city for their registration certificates and other documents.

The "other documents," it was intimated, meant the showing, or proving, that a person was unfit for service in the armed forces, that he had been discharged, or that he was registered with selective service officials.

Officers, it was stated, were detailed to cover four sections of the city itself, South Edmonton, North Edmonton and Calder.

Particular emphasis was laid on certain gathering places, it was learned, although a general breakdown of those places showed that checks were to be made of all railway stations, pool halls, bowling alleys, beer parlors, cafes and hotels.

A total of 70 places were raided during the day, and as a result of the visits, 13 persons were taken into custody.

In a number of cases, persons were merely questioned and allowed to go, while others were detained, police stated.

It was understood that persons being brought in by authorities were taken to RCMP headquarters.

THE QUESTION

George Bernard Shaw was asked recently if allowing women to take part in proceedings around the peace table would be a guarantee of lasting peace. "No, sir," he said. How do you feel about it.

THE ANSWERS

MRS. H. L. housewife: Maybe Mr. Shaw is thinking back to the days when he was a young blood, or maybe he's been reading one of his own books, again. I think the average woman today believes that the only things that come out of wars are bad things, and no woman is anxious to see her lover or her husband or her son have to prove his worth by facing shell fire.

MRS. S. TRENT, clerk: Sometimes I wonder if there are any family peace-tables. Let alone national peace-tables. There may be a few women who think it's fine to have men fighting for first place in their affections. I would say that the woman who wants to see somebody fighting over her isn't worth having.

MRS. L. FOSTER, housewife: Women don't fight any more than the men have to live with, and if the man who fights like Old Nick at home and puts on a saint's apparel when elsewhere can have a say in peace matters, then certainly the women can. This no longer is a man's world. As a matter of fact, they've made such a mess of things since the Garden of Eden, I think they should let the women take a whack at it.

Opposition to Conscription Is Long-Standing

Quebec's opposition to conscription is the result of 40 years of nationalistic propaganda fostered since the Great War by conscription being made the major issue in recurring general elections, according to Jean-Charles Harvey, Montreal, director and editor of Le Jour, weekly newspaper, who arrived here Tuesday to address meetings of the Canadian and the Women's Canadian Clubs.

He said that had conscription been introduced when war broke out or even after the fall of France, or still later after the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor the people of Quebec would have accepted it, and that issue would have passed from Canadian politics.

Mr. Harvey said that the majority of the people of Quebec would have followed the lead of the government if the conscription issue had been squarely faced at the time of the three major crises during the war.

SEES ELECTION

Commenting on the Grey North election Mr. Harvey said that a general election seems certain to be called for late April or early May. He added that Prime Minister W. L. Mackenzie King will receive a majority of the seats in Quebec. John Bracken, he added, while probably getting a few seats, is not known to the masses of the Quebec people.

Mr. Harvey expressed the opinion that 95 per cent of the Quebec people would vote against separation if a referendum on that question was submitted to them.

He said that the ultra nationalist group, while noisy and well organized, did not represent the vast majority of the French-Canadians. He pointed to the fact that in the recent Quebec provincial election 15 per cent of the total vote and only elected four candidates out of the 80 the movement placed in the field.

Dental Society Fetes Visitors

Members of the Edmonton Dental Society held their annual "Ladies' Night" Feb. 2, in the Macdonald hotel. Guests at the banquet and dance included members' wives, dental assistants, the graduating class in dentistry at the University of Alberta and representatives of the dental supply houses in Edmonton.

Dr. C. H. Lipsey, president, gave the toast to the King; Dr. Graham Huckell represented the academy of Medicine; and Maj. A. McEwen gave the toast to the ladies, to which Mrs. H. R. McLean responded.

A program of musical selections was presented by Mrs. Bartley's orchestra and by Miss Shirley Nehrer, soloist.

The committee in charge of arrangements included Dr. C. H. Lipsey, Dr. Don Hawkins, Dr. J. C. Ward and Dr. P. J. Kendall.

BEFORE THE MAGISTRATE

Rudolph Grabia pleaded guilty to driving on the left side of the street at 64 avenue and 104 street and becoming involved in an accident, and was fined $10 or 15 days by Magistrate L. R. Jackson Tuesday morning. The accused said he had given a signal that he was turning into a service station at that point and "the other man was going too fast."

A 17-year-old youth, charged with theft of a woman's purse, was transferred to the juvenile court to be dealt with.

Charge of vagrancy against Wilbert T. Moore of Edmonton was withdrawn. Calgary authorities, said the crown, were after the accused and would look after him.

Probe Theft

City police were investigating late Monday into the reported unlawful entry of the office of Dr. J. B. Mackay, 509 Tegler building over the week-end, and the theft of $50 from a cash box found there.

Entry into the office was gained by the office door, presumably by slipping the lock, police stated.

TO GIVE ADDRESS.—J. C. Jaeger who will address a special membership meeting of the council of Edmonton Chamber of Commerce Wednesday noon. He is chairman of the membership campaign, and guests will include persons who are assisting with the membership canvass.

Ponoka Airman Prefers "Tiffies"

In the field of feminine pulchritude, some men, they say, prefer blondes and it follows that others prefer brunettes or even red heads. It's the same with airplanes, according to Flt-Sgt. O. H. Harman of Ponoka, servicing flight chief with the RCAF Nighthawk squadron.

Scotty's preference runs to Tiffies—fast, high-powered rocket-carrying fighters that have cut a wide swathe in the enemy's lines from Normandy to Holland but the Ponoka technician now finds himself playing nursemaid to a bunch of Mosquito night fighters.

Harman, stocky and outspoken, makes no bones about his love for the Typhoons, but just as freely admits that he's liking his job of keeping Mosquitos in the air.

"I like it here," he says, "and the Mossies are nicer to work on. But I miss seeing those Tiffies take off from a little field near the front to tackle a target about a mile away with rockets and cannons. Now that's a beautiful sight."

Harman came over to France on D-Day plus 15 and worked to put an airfield in shape to receive his Typhoon squadron. In spare time, he and his men gave a hand to an artillery battery operating from their field.

After two months in France he was posted back to England and the RCAF bomber group, but expressed a desire to be back in France and was posted back a month later. He wound up in charge of a flight in the Nighthawk squadron.

The 24-year-old Albertan enlisted in the RCAF in May, 1940, and came overseas in March, 1942.

Say Penicillin Only Available On Cash Basis

Charge that the "wonder drug" penicillin was given at the Royal Alexandra hospital only in selected cases and on a cash basis, was made at the regular meeting of the Edmonton Trades and Labor Council on Monday night.

It was stated by one delegate that a $50 payment was demanded in the case of a woman patient before the drug would be administered. Aid Sidney Parsons, president of the Trades and Labor Council, requested the letter be filed with the executive committee for the purpose of having the charge investigated.

J. Haakon Lie, of the Norwegian embassy staff at Washington, was a visitor at the meeting. He is a former secretary of the Workers' Educational Association and the Federation of Labor in Norway. He will address a public meeting under the auspices of the Trades and Labor Council at the Masonic Temple on Thursday, Feb. 15.

It was reported that the Royal Alexandra hospital board was considering increases in pay for student nurses. This matter was brought before the board through a resolution passed at the Trades and Labor Council.

Appreciation was expressed at the City Council's action regarding housing in Edmonton, and a resolution was passed pressing for action by the Dominion government to provide temporary and permanent housing here.

Former Resident Dies at Vancouver

George S. Hegler, a resident of Edmonton for 20 years, died at Vancouver on Feb. 3. Mr. Hegler came to this city in 1907 and in 1928 went to the west coast. In Edmonton he was engaged in the real estate business and later in the grain, feed and seed business. He established the Northern Seed Company.

An active worker in community affairs, Mr. Hegler was an early member of the Alberta Motor Association, Board of Trade and of the McDougall church. During the last war he was instrumental in organizing vacant lot gardening here.

Surviving are his widow, a daughter, Mrs. J. L. Hollingshead, Edmonton; two sons, George and Kenneth, both of the RCNVR, and 12 grandchildren.

A funeral service is being held Tuesday in Vancouver.

Seriously Ill: Refuses Doctor

Said to have refused to see a doctor when seriously ill, and rushed by city police to the Royal Alexandra hospital about 11:45 p.m. Monday, Mrs. A. Martin, who resides in the Bellamy block, 101 avenue and 101A street, was found to be suffering from gas gangrene in one leg, according to police.

Described as being in "bad condition, the gangrene had passed up the right leg above the knee. While she has no relatives here, Mrs. Martin was said to have a sister living in New York.

Surviving are his widow, a daughter, Mrs. J. L. Hollingshead, Edmonton; two sons, George and Kenneth, both of the RCNVR, and 12 grandchildren.

DOROTHY DIX SAYS—

Neglect Chills Wife;
Husband Forgetful

Women With Adhesive Qualities Are Capable of Changing When Husbands Show Little
Love or Devotion

DEAR MISS DIX: What can a man do to lose his wife's affections?
JOHN A.

ANSWER: It isn't quite so easy for a man to lose his wife's affections as it is for a woman to lose her husband's, for women's hearts seem to have a more adhesive quality than men's. I have seen wives stick to husbands who cursed them and beat them and mistreated them. I have seen wives kiss the thing they fished out of the gutter, and wait patiently through years of unfaithfulness for husbands to come back to them when they were old and broken and had wasted their money in riotous living and no other woman would have them.

But fortunately, not all women are afflicted with a forgiving disposition and the guinness of mustard plaster. Many of them are as fickle as men and as hard to hold as an eel, but even those wives who have a genuine talent for loving the unlovable and being faithful to husbands who are trying to lose them, can have their affections gently and insidiously pried loose from the object on which they have fastened themselves, if you go about it in the right way.

Generally speaking, the one thing to which all women universally react is neglect. That is a gentle, blown-in-the-bottle remedy for reducing a high-pressure romance to sub-normal that never fails. Begin by dropping all love-making as soon as you are married. Never pay your wife a compliment. Never notice anything that she has on. Never show any appreciation of anything that she has done for you. Never take her out.

Next, be a fault-finder. Criticize her cooking. Deride her opinions and make her feel that you consider her a fool. Start an argument on every subject and say insulting things to her.

Be a tightwad. Raise ructions over the bills. Work her like a slave and never give her a cent of money of her own. Let her see that you regard her merely as a household convenience, and that you feel that you paid too high a price for her when you bought her with a wedding ring.

Make her the butt of your funny stories. Torture her with jealousy. Show her no affection or consideration. Do nothing to make life pleasant and attractive for her.

If these do not make her sorry that she married you, nothing will. The case is hopeless.

LIFE BEGINS

DEAR MISS DIX: Do you think a man of 40 is done with life? I just refused a fine position, because I think I have reached the top of the hill and am on the down grade to old age.

DISCOURAGED.

ANSWER: Why a man of 40 is still a boy. He hasn't even got to his prime. He has just been learning his trade and getting ready to do things, and he is foolish not to take every opportunity that offers.

EMPLOYERS

DEAR MISS DIX: The question has arisen as to whether it is right or wrong for a young girl to have dinner at a public restaurant with her employer, who is a married man, when she works late. The girl's parents approve and also insist upon her employer bringing her home. The girl contends that it is all right as long as there is no affair between the two, but it is causing trouble in the man's home.

ANSWER: If the wife objects, that should settle the question with the girl, as she should not wish to cause trouble between her employer and his wife.

At any rate, it is an indiscretion on the girl's part, for the world, being what it is, is sure to misjudge her and, no matter how innocent she may be, she will not escape being gossiped about if she is seen dining in public with her employer. Better a sandwich than a scandal.

Points for Parents

Mother: "Goodbye, dear, I hope you'll have a good time at the party and help the other boys and girls who are there have a good time, too."

By WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.
MONGOLIAN IDIOCY

One out of every five cases of mental deficiency is Mongolian or Mongolian idiosyncrasy. The condition takes its name from the facial resemblance of the patients to the Mongolian race. But if heredity has anything to do with it, we must find something more plausible to support the theory—your family tree and mine are as likely to reveal a Mongolian or two as is the family tree of the Mongolian idiot. Mongolism cannot be foreseen or prevented. It just happens here and there, now and then, in any family. So far as we know, circumstances and influences during the course of pregnancy have nothing to do with it. Nor has the treatment of mother and child during and immediately after childbirth.

In some instances a Mongolian idiot may be the first born in a family of several perfectly normal children; in others the Mongolian idiot is the last born in a family of perfectly normal children. Nobody knows enough about Mongolism to advise or even surmise whether in any circumstance a prospective child may be a Mongolian idiot.

The skull of the Mongolian idiot (mentally deficient individual, idiot, imbecile, moron) is round and small, the face and back of head both somewhat flattened. The eyes slant downwards and inwards toward the nose.

Mongolian idiots grow and develop more slowly than normal infants and never attain full normal size, though some become obese. They acquire speech late and speech is thick, guttural, hoarse. Their disposition is generally even-tempered and good natured, but they have periods of stubbornness. They show affection, are fond of simple music, very inquisitive and imitative. They may be taught to read and write and perform simple work under supervision.

Mongolian idiots are subject to chronic inflammatory diseases of the bronchial tubes and lungs. Many succumb to pulmonary tuberculosis. Few live to be older than thirty years. They are also likely to have some congenital heart disease (defect of heart development, present at birth).

Most Mongolian idiots are not idiots but imbeciles. An idiot is a person whose intelligence is on the level of that of a normal child two years of age or younger. An imbecile is a person whose intelligence is equivalent to that of a normal child from three to seven years old. A moron is a person whose intelligence is on the level of a normal child to twelve years old.

This is absolutely all I know about Mongolism. Your own physician can give you much more dependable advice about it than I can—even if I were to attempt to advise you, which I cannot do by correspondence.

Your Baby
And Mine

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRID

Burping or bubbling the baby is as much a part of feeding as offering the food itself. Babies tend to swallow air while nursing or bottle-feeding and once filled with air they cannot swallow more food, though they would like to. Try yourself to drink a full glass of any carbonated drink and see how impossible that is unless there is a chance, midway, to belch up the air. Or lie on the back after a full meal and note how choked and full the throat feels, yet never a belch emerges until one sits up and allows it to rush out.

The burping may be done the first time when baby stops drinking and appears for the moment satisfied. To burp effectively one must change the baby's position. This allows for the air bubbles to come to the top of the stomach and be released out of the mouth. So lift the baby over your shoulder and pat the back gently and persistently to encourage the air to come up. Mothers sometimes do this for as long as ten minutes to be rewarded by a gush of air that bubbles up.

Do this burping at least twice during the nursing period and again at the end of it. Sometimes, even after a baby has been burped and laid in his bed and tucked in, he will begin to cry and fuss again within a few moments. Mothers sometimes hesitate to disturb him, yet all he may need is to be picked up, his back rubbed or patted and then the disturbing gas or air bubble comes up and he huddles down, content to go to sleep.

Some babies are very hard to "burp" and mothers may give up, sure there is no air in them. Letting this air pass into the intestines gives rise to those nagging gas pains which keep a baby crying even though his food seems nicely suited to him.

One of my readers says she has found that when babies are hard to burp one can be very successful by carrying them down stairs, hoisted over the shoulder. "Just the gentle movement of going down the stairs, coupled with the upright position, seem to do the trick," she writes. While there may be no stairs and mothers reluctant to take the exercise themselves, this is certainly a novel idea, worth trying out.

War
Kitchen

By GAYNOR MADDOX

With meat and towl in short supply, and fish none too plentiful, desserts using eggs and cheese become important in the diet. These two from "The Russian Cook Book for American Homes," wartime edition, will delight and nourish at the same time.

COTTAGE CHEESE PATTIES

(Syrniki)

Two pounds cottage cheese, 3 or 4 eggs, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 tablespoon sugar, 2 to 3 tablespoons sour cream, flour, 2 tablespoons butter or table fat.

Put cottage cheese through sieve, add eggs, salt, sugar and sour cream. Add as much flour as necessary to make a thick mixture like biscuit dough. Roll or pat out on a floured board, and cut into flat cakes 1/2 to 1-inch thick. Fry in butter or table fat, and serve with sugar and sour cream.

Snowballs in Custard Sauce

(Shneshka)

Three egg whites, 1 1/2 cups milk, 2 1/2 tablespoons powdered sugar, 1/4 teaspoon vanilla.

Beat egg whites until stiff, add powdered sugar gradually, beating constantly. Heat milk, add vanilla, and when milk comes to boil, drop heaping tablespoons of the egg mixture into the milk. Cover and remove from heat. Stir 10 minutes. Remove the "snowballs" from milk and serve in sherbet glasses with custard sauce.

Give Citations
Of Four Awards
To Alberta Men

Citations for decorations awarded to four Albertans for gallantry in action with the Canadian Army overseas were made available on Tuesday. Announcement of the awards was made several weeks ago but at that time individual citations were unavailable and in general it was announced they were for gallantry in action.

The four Alberta awards were included in a list of 81, which numbered seven Distinguished Service Orders, 30 Military Crosses, three Distinguished Conduct Medals and 41 Military Medals.

Below are the citations of the four Albertans:
Lt. Martin Orrel Rollefson, Military Cross, Edmonton. During the night Sept. 8, 1944, Lt. Rollefson was in charge of construction of a bridge across the Ghent Canal at Mombrugge in Belgium. In spite of heavy shell and automatic weapon fire he completed the advance party work and layout for the bridge. During this time German infantry occupied houses of the village on the far bank less than 150 yards from the bridge site and were also bringing direct fire to bear on the site by 20 mm anti-aircraft guns sited some 200 yards away. Offloading of bridge material by Lt. Rollefson's troop was commenced under similar circumstances.

SPASMODIC WORK
It was only possible to work spasmodically, but from 1.30 a.m. Sept. 9 until first light the troop successfully offloaded the site equipment necessary for a Bailey bridge. This was due principally to the officer's coolness and personal example under fire. It became apparent at first light that the bridge site was dominated by the enemy and that bridging was impossible. However, during the day Lt. Rollefson remained with his troop at the site under fire prepared at any time to commence bridging operations.

In the evening the troop was relieved. Having directed the relief of his own troop he returned through heavy shell fire to the bridge site, to stand by in the event of the officer who took over becoming a casualty, and remained there until the bridge was completed. The successful completion of the bridge was due in large part to this officer's drive, determination, coolness and courage under fire and his refusal to admit that the work could not be proceeded with.

FIGHTING PATROL

Sergeant Alexander McLaren, Military Medal, Camrose. On the afternoon of Aug. 5, 1944, an infantry platoon under command of Sgt. McLaren was ordered to proceed into Tilly-la-Campagne as a fighting patrol to ascertain the strength of the enemy who were believed to be withdrawing. As the platoon approached the village it came under withering machine gun cross-fire and mortar fire, which revealed that the enemy was in Tilly in as great strength as ever. In spite of this the patrol was able to penetrate some considerable distance towards its objective, due largely to the excellent leadership and personal example of Sgt. McLaren.

When it became necessary to withdraw, Sgt. McLaren, still under heavy fire and without regard to personal safety, succeeded in bringing back most of his platoon from which appeared to be a hopeless situation. The fact that the platoon suffered only seven casualties was due to Sgt. McLaren. Throughout the action Sgt. McLaren's display of valor and disregard for personal safety was an inspiration to his men and through his bravery and leadership the required information was obtained.

WIRELESS OPERATOR

Cpl. Arthur Haddow, Military Medal, Hope Valley. On Aug. 8, 1944, at Grainville Langueur, Cpl. Haddow was wireless operator in a tank which was immobilized by an enemy 88mm gun. The crew commander who was also troop commander ordered the crew to bail out and remain near the tank until assistance arrived while he fricassee of veal, baked potatoes, baked acorn squash, celery, enriched bread, butter or fortified margarine, Russian snowballs in custard sauce, coffee, milk.

take over another tank. Cpl. Haddow assumed command of the crew and shortly after led them through intense mortar and shell fire back to the immobilized tank where he re-established communications and manned the gun to assist the infantry forward. During the entire period his tank was in full view of enemy guns. After dark Cpl. Haddow directed the repair of the tank track and then brought the tank back to the squadron harbor. As a result of Cpl. Haddow's leadership and complete disregard for personal safety, his tank was able to provide effective resistance to the infantry towards the successful attack on their objective.

Pte. Kristian Morgan Lyne, military medal, Dunn. On July 25, 1944, an infantry regiment consolidated at St. Andre sur Orne under heavy shell and mortar fire which continued with only occasional brief pauses all that day and the night following.

One company was in a forward position at the south edge of the village when heavy enemy artillery concentrations were brought down upon them causing casualties and wrecking the buildings which they occupied. Private Lyne, a stretcher bearer, immediately went to the assistance of the casualties, rendered first aid treatment, rescued his comrades from the damaged buildings and evacuated them to positions of safety ignoring completely the danger from falling debris and the continued heavy shell fire.

ACROSS OPEN

On two occasions that day, Pte. Lyne crawled across stretches of open and exposed ground to reach the wounded under heavy shell and mortar fire and air attack.

This soldier displayed throughout the action a spirit of outstanding gallantry. Under heavy fire, he continued his work with absolute disregard for his personal safety. His courage and aggressive determination saved the lives of many of his comrades and were an inspiration and an incentive to all ranks of his company.

Popular Banff Girl Married

CALGARY, Feb. 6.—A wedding of interest in Banff, Calgary and Edmonton took place on Saturday afternoon at St. George's Anglican church, Banff, when Lucie Ann daughter of Lt.-Col. and Miss Andrew Keene Hemming of Banff became the bride of F. O. John Thomas Cantrell, RAAF, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Cantrell of Sydney, Australia. The Rev. Canon Tully Montgomery officiated.

The bride's cousin, Mrs. Frank Hollans, was matron-of-honor, and Miss Florence Edith Robinson was convener. F. O. Hemming and Philip Moore proposed the toast. Mrs. RAAF, was best man and master of the band.

Mr. George Mason ushered the bride. F. O. and Mrs. Cantrell left later for Calgary, where they are spending a honeymoon.

A reception was held at the end of a four-day tour to leaving for Mount Royal hotel, where the Mr. Cantrell is staying.

No person may send more than two packages a week and each must be to different addresses.

At present contents must be limited to food, toilet articles and drugs and are subject to any French regulations restricting imports. The rate of postage which applies is four cents for the first ounce and two cents for each subsequent ounce.

Eggs in Shell Being Shipped To Old Country

Since Jan. 1, Alberta has shipped 1,240,000 dozen eggs to Great Britain, it was announced Tuesday by A. F. Darnell, Edmonton, senior poultry products inspector for the Dominion department of agriculture. Of the total, 864,000 dozen have been shell eggs, while the remainder have been shipped in powdered form.
Shipment of shell eggs overseas began in December for the first time since the war started. Mr. Darnell stated. With the shipping situation eased, the trend is "definitely away" from dried eggs, supplied until now because space on cargo ships was at a premium.
Top priority on egg shipments to Britain this year will go to storage eggs. Mr. Darnell pointed out. Eggs will be stored here during February, March and April, and will be shipped overseas in the fall, when production there falls off.
Second priority rating will go to fresh shell eggs for the Old Country. While dried eggs will take third place. The 864,000 dozen shipped since beginning of the year, amounting to 45 carloads, fall into the second bracket.
Mr. Darnell appealed to poultry farmers to plan production programs this year so that a quantity of eggs will be available for shipment to Britain during the fall months.
"It's a simple matter to buy earlier chicks and set the production period ahead by two months," he said, pointing to the fact that the low egg production period in Britain coincides with the low period in this province.

New Clashes in Berlin "Unconditional Resistance" Urged by German Leaders

LONDON, Feb. 6.—(AP)—Nazi authorities yesterday urged German youth to desert their present leaders and demanded "unconditional resistance" as the military situation grew worse and as neutral sources reported new internal clashes were occurring in the Reich.
The Ankara radio reported that several clashes had occurred in still smoking Berlin between the Gestapo and civilian peace rioters. The Ankara broadcast said that "in one clash 30 people, including several children, had been killed."
The Moscow radio also reported "numerous" clashes at the front between German army and SS formations, with the army men "killing 88 officers and men who demanded futile resistance."
Berlin was proclaimed a "front line city" by Labor Front Leader Dr. Robert Ley in a speech to arms workers reported by the German radio.
The Ankara radio, commenting on Berlin preparations, said arms were issued even "to men as old as 80."
Edwin Shanke, an Associated Press correspondent in Stockholm, said an estimated 3,000,000 refugees had fled from the east to Berlin, then on to London and even as far back as Hamburg, had used the Nazis' carefully balanced food, clothing and fuel rationing as well as the transport system.

Bottleneck in Air Line Travel Said Removed

New, stepped-up service on Trans-Canada Air Lines on both the continental and Edmonton to Lethbridge feeder line has already resulted in the breaking of a bad traffic bottleneck at Winnipeg. W. Fowler, assistant operations manager for TCA, said here Tuesday.
Mr. Fowler, whose headquarters are at Winnipeg, is making an inspection tour of TCA facilities in the prairie provinces and B.C.
This is his first visit to Edmonton since 1918, and the stupendous growth of facilities at the municipal airport and elsewhere is simply unbelievable, Mr. Fowler stated.
Previous to the recent change in TCA schedules there were three flights daily each way between Eastern Canada and Winnipeg and only two daily east and west from Winnipeg. This created a serious traffic jam at Winnipeg. The new schedule has broken this jam, Mr. Fowler said.
WELL RECEIVED
Already the new service in and out of Edmonton is being well patronized and once it is known by the general public that more space is available there will be an additional increase, the official said. Fourteen passenger Lockheed airplanes are now standard equipment on the Edmonton-Lethbridge run.
Direct air line service between Edmonton and Winnipeg must await completion of facilities at landing strips between the two cities, Mr. Fowler said.
"We are ready to inaugurate the service just as soon as facilities are available," he stated.
THROUGH SASKATOON
The projected service would be from Edmonton by way of Saskatoon.
E. W. Stull, western superintendent for TCA accompanied Mr. Fowler to Edmonton from Lethbridge.
Both Mr. Fowler and Mr. Stull are qualified pilots.
Plan to Electrify B.C. Rural Areas
VANCOUVER, Feb. 6.—(CP)—A province-wide, five-year, post-war plan which will provide power to 80 per cent of those British Columbian not serviced at present, was announced yesterday by W. G. Murrin, president of the British Columbia Electric Railway Co.
The plan calls for construction of between 6,000 and 7,000 new power lines into individual homes.
The program will complete, "for all practical purposes," electrification of all rural areas, said Mr. Murrin.
Only a few premises so remotely situated that they cannot be served without power upon completion of the program, he added.
Cost to the individual customer would be a minimum of $2 a month for four years. After this time, standard rate schedules would apply.
The program is independent of rural electrification plans that undoubtedly will be drafted by the proposed rural electrification committee of the provincial government.

Accused Freed On Technicality

William Tymochuk and Fernand Beaudry, both of Edmonton, heard a charge of possession of safebreaking instruments against them dismissed by Magistrate L. R. Jackson in city police court Tuesday morning. They walked out of the courtroom with their freedom won on a "time" technicality.
Accused were apprehended early Jan. 28 as they allegedly picked up some tools in an alley south of Jasper Avenue. The tools were not hidden there when a police check was made even earlier that morning, the court was told.
Defence counsel contended that there was need of a definition of the hours of night—night hours being considered those from 9 p.m. to 6 a.m. of the following day. There was no evidence as to the time the police radio car had been notified, but there was evidence that the two accused had been booked-in at 6:30 a.m.
Mr. Jackson referred to the evidence of police officers concerning the time of day and said the witnesses had told of "approximate times" only. The benefit of the doubt, he added, must be given to the accused.

Gen. Bradley Again Leads U.S. 1st Army

PARIS, Feb. 6.—(AP)—The U.S. 1st Army, which was transferred to Field Marshal Montgomery's command when the Germans broke through the Ardennes, was returned to Lt. Gen. Omar N. Bradley's 12th army group as soon as it linked up with the 3rd Army during that battle, supreme headquarters announced yesterday.
At the same time, headquarters declared the Germans had lost 860,000 prisoners on the western front, plus well over 400,000 in killed and long-term wounded—a total of 1,260,000 men—since the D-Day landings in Normandy.

Tax Exemptions Cost Dominion $20,000,000 Year

WINNIPEG, Feb. 6.—(CP)—G. S. Thorvaldson, K.C., of Winnipeg, president of the Income Taxpayers' Association, said yesterday that as a result of income and excess profits tax exemptions given to co-operatives and mutual insurance companies, the Dominion treasury had been deprived of about $20,000,000 of revenue a year.
Mr. Thorvaldson, in presenting the association's brief to the McDougall commission on taxation of co-operatives, based his calculations on the $352,785,398 trade of co-operatives in 1943 and the profits of more than $2,000,000 made by mutual insurance companies.

City Firm Gives $300 to Kinsmen

Employees of an Edmonton firm who received free chest X-ray examinations at the mobile clinic in the Edmonton Motors building thought so highly of the work being done against tuberculosis, that they banded together and donated $300 to the Kinsmen TB Seal sale campaign. It was announced Tuesday.
The mobile X-ray unit was purchased by the Edmonton Kinsmen club and donated to the provincial department of health to assist in locating and fighting tuberculosis throughout the province. Since the clinic was set up in Edmonton early in December, more than 15,000 persons have received free examinations.
Mr. Watt, publicity for the Kinsmen TB Seal campaign, said that reminder letters have been sent to hundreds of citizens to whom Christmas seals were sent. He said it is not too late for donations which should be sent to Heintzman Hall in Edmonton.
The committee set an objective of $30,000 this year to assist in fighting tuberculosis and to date contributions are $2,500 short of this goal.
With funds raised through the sale of the Christmas Seals, the Kinsmen Club has purchased an older mobile X-ray unit for use in rural areas and hopes also to buy a number of stationary units to be established in urban districts.

Poland To Get Parts of Reich

WARSAW, Feb. 2.—(AP)—(Delayed)—Bulaslaw Bierut, president of the Soviet-sponsored Polish National Council, announced from this blasted capital yesterday that the new Poland would include land along the German Oder and in East Prussia and that Polish civil administrators were being sent to those regions.
"There will be Polish administration on what we regard as Polish soil, regardless of opinions to be expressed in international conferences," Bierut said. "We've seen the attitude of the major powers. We don't think anyone will interfere with us."
Bierut said the distribution of the Lithuanian and Polish population of East Prussia will determine the new frontier there, intimating that the northern section of East Prussia, including Königsberg, probably would lie within the border of the Lithuanian Soviet Republic and the remainder within Poland.

NOT A SCRAP IS WASTED AS CANADA GATHERS UP ITS FIGHTING FORCES' USED CLOTHING AND SENDS IT TO THE PEOPLE OF LIBERATED EUROPE
Ready for liberated sections of Poland and Yugoslavia are these boxes of reconditioned service clothing at Valleyfield, Que., clothing depot. Suzanne DuPuy stencils on the addresses. The clothing is badly needed.

Suzanne finds this pair of trousers a bit on the large size, but some male European can use them.

Army hats, warm and fur trimmed, are on their way, too. Here Lieut. J. A. Pulfer tries one on Therese Cadieux before packing it. Used battledress, repaired and dyed dark blue; army boots and other items will be sent.

There's a ton of rubber footwear in this pile, ready for shipment via UNRRA. That's Suzanne DuPuy again.

PROUDEST STEWARDESS—Canada's latest VC, Pte. E. A. (Smokey) Smith, was asked, when he reached Vancouver on his flying trip from England to his home in New Westminster, B.C., by someone in the welcoming crowd, "Where's your girl friend?" Smokey grasped pretty Flo Perkins of Estevan, Sask., stewardess on the plane on the final part of his flight, and smiled, "I like this one."

BRITISH BRIDES AND BABIES ARRIVE—Every emotion from glee to grief was registered by the eight British babies in the above picture as they got their first view of Canada. They arrived recently with a group of British brides of Royal Canadian Air Force personnel and are shown with Red Cross nurses in the nursery at their disembarkation point. Wide awake and pleased with the prospect of becoming a Canadian is little Elaine Cawker, shown below, with her mother, Mrs. Rosina Cawker, shortly before disembarking at an eastern port. Mrs. Cawker is the wife of Flight Lieutenant H. R. Cawker, 46 Dundur Place, Winnipeg, Manitoba.

CANADIAN MANNED FRIGATE DAMAGED IN COLLISION—While operating with sub hunting Canadian and British escort groups and a Royal Navy aircraft carrier in the Bay of Biscay, the Canadian-manned frigate HMCS "Teme" was rammed amidships by an aircraft carrier and almost cut in half. The damaged ship was taken in tow by HMCS "Outremont", another Canadian frigate and reached harbour safely. "Teme" is one of the Royal Navy's River Class Frigates which has been manned by Canadian personnel. She was commissioned in February last the first frigate to be commissioned by the Royal Canadian Navy in the United Kingdom. She was on her first active operation when she was rammed by the aircraft carrier. Here is a close up of the frigate's flag deck showing the damage done. Casualties among the ship's company were light.
